

C.S.U. Strikers In Britain Go Back To Work 'On Own Terms'

Will Set Pattern For Ships Struck Around The World

LONDON (Reuter)—William Arland, strike leader in Britain for the Canadian Seamen's Union, announced today that striking Canadian sailors from ships in British ports will return to work this week-end, on their own terms.

Arland said in an interview published by the London Star that the London agreement "will undoubtedly set the pattern in other countries affected by the strike."

Acceptance by Canadian ship-owners of the proposals submitted on behalf of Canadian strikers in British ports averted a threatened strike by 27,000 British dockers.

The Canadian Seamen's Union called its strike three months ago after owners had signed contracts with the rival International Seafarers' Union (A.F.L.).

Arland, who had an interview Thursday night with Dana Wilgress, Canadian High Commissioner for Britain, said the conditions for resumption of work are:

1. No victimization.
2. All charges against striking crews are to be dropped.
3. Crews are to work at the wages and under the conditions existing before the strike was called.
4. All strikers are to go back as members of the Canadian Seamen's Union.
5. No pressure is to be applied to have them join the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) with which owners signed contracts several months ago.

Set Time Limit On Answer

Arland is understood to have submitted the union proposals to the High Commissioner, setting a time limit of four hours in which to get an answer.

Inside that time he received a telephone call saying the owners had accepted the proposals.

Arland is believed to have told the High Commissioner he would not be prepared to accept responsibility for continuation of the

London Stevedores Resume

British dockers at Avonmouth, Bristol, Liverpool and Southampton have for some weeks supported the Canadian Seamen's Union strike.

Representatives of Canadian crews in Britain were to meet ship owners later today to discuss when they should return to their ships.

London stevedores went to work today unloading the two Canadian ships Beaverbrae and Argomont after an announcement that the union terms had been accepted was made to mass meetings.

Six gangs of stevedores went into the Royal Albert Dock to unload grain and flour from the Beaverbrae, which has been idle since April 3. Three gangs went

2,000 Of Striking Berlin Railwaymen Return To Work

BERLIN (UP)—Some 2,000 striking switch operators and signal men returned to their posts on the West Berlin railways today.

The Soviet-controlled railroad administration, however, refused to move trains from western Germany until the 35-day strike ends.

Many of the "emergency crews" in the British sector found themselves locked out. The British military government reversed itself later to permit the men to enter the yards.

480,000 Coalminers Of U.S. Start Their 10-Day Vacation

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (U.P.)—The 480,000 coal miners of the United States prepared to begin their annual 10-day vacation after today's shift, with John L. Lewis and the operators deadlocked on negotiations for a new contract.

As Lewis and northern and western operators began their second bargaining session here, it was a question just when the miners would return to their jobs.

The current soft coal contract will expire next Thursday while members of the United Mine Workers are on vacation.

Operators of the western and northern mines were confident, however, that the miners would be back to work July 5. They pointed out that the Taft-Hartley Law compels the union to keep working until Aug. 14, 60 days after it filed a notice of contract termination.

But the miners have traditionally followed the policy of "no contract, no work," and Lewis refused to confirm or deny that they would return to the pits after their holiday.

Lewis told newsmen they "can assume anything."

During their 10-day vacation, the miners will draw $48,000,000 in pay at the rate of $100 per man.

He was convicted of the murder after crown witnesses had produced a single strand of Mrs. Cleland's hair they said they had found on the sleeve of his trenchcoat.

Mission District Homes Guarded As Killer At Large

VOL. 114 NO. 147 * VICTORIA, B.C., FRIDAY, JUNE 24, 1949 —28 PAGES PRICE FIVE CENTS

Mission District Homes Guarded As Killer At Large

MISSION, B.C. (CP)—Soldiers guarded homes in the Mission district today as search continued for a crazed farmer, alleged slayer of two women.

The men were volunteers from the New Westminster Regiment, "B" Company, stationed at Mission. They were armed with civilian rifles and guns.

Rain during the night hampered searchers, who renewed the hunt at dawn through the heavily-wooded district five miles from here in the Silver Hill area.

Police issued a shoot-to-kill order as the posse of armed officers and citizen volunteers in the hill-surrounded district beat through bushland trails.

Sought was Ivar Jonson, 70-year-old pioneer farmer, who put a torch to his farm buildings Thursday and is alleged to have shot two women following an argument over a new road near his property.

Dead are Mrs. George Barrett, 66, and Mrs. Maria Lindberg, 68-year-old widow.

One police dog was brought to the scene today and trained cougar dogs, also used in man-hunts, were on call.

A 50-man posse guarded tree-lined highways in the Silverhill district throughout the night. At dawn they came in, replaced by new volunteers and police reinforcements.

The night patrol kept to the roads on orders from senior police officers.

'Suicide' To Enter Woods

"It would be suicide to go in at night," said one of the officers. "He's probably a better woodsman than anybody looking for him."

Burning of the farm buildings and the deaths of the two women were the climax to the road dispute.

Jonson, believing the new roadway was too close to his property, had warned: "I'll shoot if one stone falls on my property."

A road crew called police and municipal constable Peter Bergen answered the summons.

At the Jonson home, a small cottage on a 30-acre farm, two shots were fired at the police officer, but he escaped injury.

"I was just knocking on the door when the first shot came," said Bergen. "I spun around and ducked behind a post. The bullet lodged in the doorway."

A second shot came within an inch of the constable's arm and showered splinters in his face.

Jonson fled, heading down the main highway close to his home.

100 Rounds Of Ammunition

He was armed with a 30-30 rifle and is reported to have carried 100 rounds of ammunition.

Mrs. Lindberg was killed on the highway, shot down as she approached Jonson near her home. She apparently was making her way to the Jonson farm, attracted by the flaming buildings.

Mrs. Barrett died on the front porch of her farm home, half-a-mile from the Jonson place. Her husband, George Barrett, found the body sprawled on the porch.

She apparently was shot down as she came from the front door on the approach of Jonson.

The roadway in dispute was planned to pass the Barrett farm, giving them a right-of-way to the main highway.

The rain-soaked ground offered little chance for the use of dogs and the burning of the Jonson home with all his clothing made it difficult for the animals to pick up the scent of the fugitive.

The search today was concentrated in a five-square mile area in the foothills of the Stave Mountain region, 45 miles east of Vancouver on the bank of the Fraser River.

It is a Swedish-populated district, where Jonson was known as a "quiet but moody man." Some neighbors said he had a "persecution complex."

Strike At Asbestos Ended; 2,500 Start Work Again Monday

THEFTORD MINES, Que. (CP)—Georges Dionne, president of the Syndicate of Asbestos Workers here announced the asbestos strike was settled and that some 2,500 workers would be back at work Monday.

Mr. Dionne said that a meeting of asbestos workers here Thursday night decided "unanimously to return to work. The settlement affects workers at the mines of the Asbestos Corporation, Johnson Mines and Flint-koke Ltd. The companies jointly operate seven asbestos pits.

The Theftford Mines syndicate ordered the strike Feb. 15, two days after some 2,000 asbestos workers had walked off their jobs at the Canadian Johns-Manville plant at Asbestos, Que.

The workers sought a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase to bring up their basic wage rate to $1-an-hour.

New Bug Menacing Fort Erie District

FORT ERIE, Ont. (UP)—Residents of Fort Erie, Ontario, were worried today about a new type of insect which lives in reinforced mud huts and eats leaves of trees.

A specimen of the new bug was sent to the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph by a Fort Erie entomologist who discovered the insects in a Niagara boulevard.

The insect builds a sealed hut of sand, reinforced with clay under the leaves. On warm nights the gnat-like insects come out of their shelter and devour all the leaves within reach.

Magnificent's Commander, Navigator To Face Charges

HALIFAX (AP)—The commander and the navigating officer of the aircraft carrier Magnificent will face charges arising from the grounding of the big ship near Liverpool, N.S., June 4 at separate courts-martial here June 28.

An Atlantic Command announcement today said Commodore G. R. (Gus) Miles, O.B.E., commanding officer of the carrier, will be a defendant in the first court-martial presided over by Rear-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, chief of the Atlantic Command.

Lt. Cmdr. W. D. F. Johnston, navigating officer of the carrier, will be defendant at a second court-martial presided over by Capt. E. P. Tisdall of Ottawa.

A naval spokesman said that texts of the charges against each of the officers would not be available until sometime tomorrow.

Cmdr. V. W. Howland will officiate as the judge advocate for both hearings. The courts-martial will open with the traditional one-gun salute and a bare sword will be used to indicate the verdict. At the end of the hearing if an officer is guilty the point of the sword is turned toward him.

The hearings will be held in the Stadacona auditorium and will occupy June 28 and June 29.

The Magnificent ran aground during exercises off the Nova Scotia south shore on what a spokesman said was an uncharted submerged rock.

Under her own power and with the aid of escorting destroyers she worked herself off the rock and moved back to her Halifax base.

Last week she steamed under her own power to Saint John, N.B., from where it was reported some 200 feet of her bottom was damaged and she might be in drydock for three months.

Czech Protestants Plan To Back Roman Catholics

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Protestant minority is reported preparing to support a traditional antagonist—the Roman Catholic Church—in the latter's fight for survival against the Communist government.

A western clergyman visiting in Prague, who asked to remain anonymous, quoted Protestants who are in favor of the move as saying "we are next and we are lost if the Catholics succumbed to state subjugation."

There are 9,000,000 Roman Catholics in Czechoslovakia, and 1,000,000 Protestants.

The Protestants, most Calvinists (Presbyterians)—also have been under Communist pressure to submit to state control. Church leaders suspect that should the much-stronger Roman Catholic Church be subjugated they would have no chance to combat a government scheme to make

Berlin Rail Strikers Ask Anti-Red Action

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin's rail strikers, rebuffed by the Russian-appointed railway management in efforts to run an "emergency service" into Berlin, today urged a retaliatory Soviet-zone blockade.

The anti-Communist union prepared telegrams to be sent later in the day to the west German union headquarters at Frankfurt, asking all German unionists to refuse to handle freight destined for east Germany.

The Berlin union styled its action a retaliation. Earlier the rail management had turned down the union's offer to work trains run on an emergency basis.

In Frankfurt union headquarters declined comment on the suggested Soviet-zone boycott.

Willing To Allow Repairs

Later, British officials, while making it clear their policy against emergency service had not changed, relaxed their initial order.

They said strikers would be permitted to enter yards to repair installations and clear yard lines. This, said a British spokesman, was only allowed to prepare for operation provided the Reichsbahn agrees to the emergency program.

A French spokesman said their attitude was similar to the British stand.

"The movement of trains would be impossible without agreement by the Reichsbahn," he said, "but if the Reichsbahn until the formal request is received.

The anti-Communist strikers had offered to open the way to ward restoring interzonal freight movements by trying to clear the clogged marshaling yards in the United States and French sectors. Dozens of trains have been idle there since the stoppage was called five weeks ago.

The idea, presumably, was that clearing the yards would make it possible for the Russians to allow trains to come in from the western zones of Germany.

The idea was reported to have the approval of the U.S. Military Government. British authorities termed the idea a lot of nonsense and forbade strikers to make any such move in the British sector.

agrees we will accept the service."

Leaders of the U.G.O. union, which struck May 21 for full pay in West marks, job security and union recognition, said they are going ahead with their plans in the U.S. and French sectors.

British officials contend that the 14,000 strikers cannot operate a portion of a rail system unless the whole railway operates.

Secret U.S. Naval Building Scene Of Three-Alarm Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top-secret naval building always under heavy guard today was the scene of a three-alarm fire that also threatened a row of large munitions warehouses.

The fire was reported under control. One man familiar with the United States Navy installation said if the flames had spread to the warehouses just a few feet away "the entire southeastern part of Washington would have blown up."

The area is considered so secret that shore patrolmen with drawn revolvers kept Washington police, including the chief of police, from entering.

The navy refused any immediate estimate of damage, explanation of the cause of the fire, or to tell what was in Building 13 of the naval research magazine.

A reporter for the Washington Times-Herald said, however, that the two-story building was burned out.

Meanwhile, Calgary citizens, faced with extreme discomforts, have one consolation. The international representative of the workers' local has assured the city commissioner that the strike will not come during Stampede week.

Women Flee, School Closes As Berserk Killer Hunted

Calgary Facing Total Loss Of Transit, Power

CALGARY (BUP)—The City of Calgary is threatened with a transit service collapse and possibly a total blackout. Civic electrical workers are asking for a 20-cent-an-hour increase. About a week ago the workers' union voted to strike after turning down a Provincial government wage board offer of 15 cents.

On Thursday Robert Leach, Calgary inspector of the board of industrial relations, was asked to attempt a settlement of the dispute.

Premier Of Greece Dies In 89th Year

LATE T. SOPHOULIS

Was Key Figure Opposing Red Moves

ATHENS (AP)—Themistokles Sophoulis, Premier of Greece, died today.

He was 88 years old. Death occurred at his summer residence. Although he had been ill and was near death last fall, his death at this time was unexpected.

Sophoulis, a key figure in the west's struggle to halt the march of Communism, often was referred to by his followers as the man made premier by the United States.

The venerable Liberal Party leader was an important cog in the Truman doctrine, under which U.S. aid went to Greece, fighting a war against Communists in the north, and Turkey, under the shadow of the Russian bear.

Sophoulis was born in Vathy on the island of Samos in 1860, the son of a prominent Samian politician named Panayoti Sophoulis. He was educated in Athens and in Germany, specializing in archaeology, in which he held a doctor's degree. His writings on archaeology were well known in Europe of the 1880s.

24-Hour Search Fails To Reveal Trace Of Quarry

MISSION, B.C. (CP)—A 24-hour search for Ivar Johnson, grudge-crazed farmer alleged to have killed two women, has failed to reveal a trace of the hunted man.

In the fear-ridden Silver Hill district five miles from Mission, homes were under guard today, some women and children had been evacuated to Mission City, and the school was closed.

Miles of bushlands have been combed by police, reserve army men and citizens from Mission City, Silver Hill and the surrounding district.

Before noon, heavy rain pelted the district as posse members patrolled highways in cars while others beat through the bush.

Head-high ferns, rooted stumps and trees and the debris of an untouched forest hid all but the closest men from sight.

The 70-year-old farmer, said to have been holding a grudge against neighbors planning a road close to his farm, opened the reign of terror at 11 a.m. Thursday.

Within two hours Mrs. George Barrett, 66-year-old farm wife, and a neighbor, Mrs. Maria Lindberg, 68-year-old widow, were dead. A police constable, Peter Bergen, had escaped death by inches.

Putting the torch to his farm buildings, Johnson fled, seeking refuge in the dense forest.

Fear spread through the area. The school was closed, the pupils taken home in a bus, driven by an armed driver and with a rifle-carrying guard. Women stayed behind barred doors, while husbands, armed with rifles and shotguns, joined the posse.

Johnson was armed with a 30-30 rifle and is reported to have carried 100 rounds of ammunition.

The search today was concentrated in a five-square mile area in the foothills of the Silver Mountain region, 45 miles east of Vancouver on the bank of the Fraser River.

It is a Swedish-populated district, where Johnson was known as a "quiet but moody" man. Some neighbors said he had a "persecution complex."

'Sandy' Gray To Retire

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—This city's Provincial government agent, Alexander B. Gray, will retire June 30 after 34 years of public service. Better known by his nickname "Sandy," he was a lacrosse star which won the world championship and Minto Cup in 1908. He was goalkeeper.

Six-Month Sentences

CLOVERDALE, B.C. (CP)—Willard de Marce and Rudy Roy Franta will serve six months in jail for being in possession of an illegal still. They pleaded guilty to the charge in police court and chose the jail term rather than pay a $500 fine. Police said they found the men operating a still at Port Kells.

C.S.U. Strike Settled For London; Ineffective Here

MONTREAL (CP)—Harry Davis, president of the striking Canadian Seamen's Union, said today a settlement had been worked out covering Canadian ships tied up in Britain but the strike "will go on until such a settlement is agreed to for all Canadian ships."

He described the settlement as "a partial victory for the union" which struck against east-coast deep-sea owners March 31 when the owners signed with the Rival Seafarers' International union.

Davis said the terms cover ships in Britain and one in New Zealand.

A. L. W. MacCallum, manager of the Shipping Federation of Canada, said, however, he had not heard officially of the settlement.

NO CHARGES

The terms under which the men will return to work on these ships were listed by Davis as:

1. Return to the ships without any discrimination.

2. No charges to be laid against the seamen.

Finds Burglar Had Been At Work

On his rounds checking front and rear business premises Thursday night, Constable Keith Hollett discovered evidence where someone had been trying to get into National Motors, Yates Street, by using a glass-cutter on a window.

The police station was called at 11.25 by someone who reported there was someone on the roof of Cro's Cafe.

Constables Ray Maitland, George Smith and Brian Ferguson attended. They found this was Constable Hollett. He had found a ladder against the rear of the motor company building and on investigating found definite signs the cutter had been used on an office window.

The burglar is believed to have been scared off before completing his intention.

$20,000 Sought For Cancer Research

Canadian Cancer Society will be asked for $20,000 to continue research by directors of St. Joseph's Hospital Cancer Fund.

The decision was made at the annual meeting of the hospital Thursday afternoon, when directors considered the financial hardship imposed on the hospital by cancer out-patients who cannot pay for treatment and the degree of success in the use of para-aminobenzoic acid with X-rays in cancer treatment.

An announcement of the latter was made in a cautious statement issued by the hospital Thursday afternoon. John Hart was re-elected president; Joseph McKenna, secretary, and L. Woodward, treasurer.

Directors pointed out that treatment of out-patients suffering from cancer was not covered by the B.C. Hospital Insurance scheme and few patients were able to pay, with the result that this had become an "acute" financial problem.

"It is to help treat these people that funds are so urgently needed," directors said. "Our unpaid X-ray treatment accounts last year amounted to $13,470."

New Hall For Dance

The Mid-Town Teen Club will hold its weekly dance this Saturday in the Newstead Hall, 734 Port Street, instead of at the James Bay Community Hall as previously announced, it was reported today. The dance will be from 8 to 12.

The club's formal dance will be held July 16.

Election of club officers will be held in the middle of the summer holidays.

The club also reported its Mid-Town Madcaps dance orchestra will hold its opening musicale at Thetis Lake Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5. If the event proves popular, more will be held from 7 to 9 each Sunday evening.

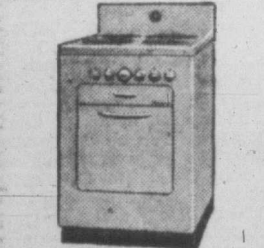

Children Enroll For Playgrounds

Enthusiasm was at high pitch Thursday afternoon, as registration of children planning to attend Oak Bay playgrounds this summer, began at Willows School.

More than 50 children registered in the first half hour. Enrollment was held this afternoon at Montevue School. Miss Key Burnett, Miss Enid Aibel, Mrs. W. E. Cockell, Mrs. K. C. Gilbert and Mrs. L. J. Clark, supervisor, registered the children.

Playground workers have appealed for parent co-operation in keeping the program running smoothly.

Services Sunday Mark Anniversary Of Oldest Church

SAANICHTON—Reputed to be the oldest church on Vancouver Island, St. Stephen's Church, Mt. Newton Crossroad, will mark its 87th anniversary on Sunday.

The church was built of California redwood, brought to Victoria by ship and dragged to Saanichton by oxen. The huge trees fronting the frame building were planted at Christmas, 1862, the year of construction, as Christmas trees, to mark the day.

William Thomson, first white settler of the district, who came in 1855, donated land for the church, helped to build it and planted the trees. The church stands alone with the manse in wide fields that were donated.

Mrs. H. S. Hughes, daughter of Mr. Thomson, still lives on Bannockburn Farm nearby.

A redwood cross was presented to the church in memory of Gen. James A. Garfield, President of the United States, by teachers and scholars of Calvary Memorial Church, Philadelphia, in 1882.

Archdeacon W. C. Western, pastor, will conduct special anniversary services this Sunday.

Light Suspension For Motorist

Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today imposed a lenient driver's license suspension in the case of John H. Castle, Duncan, who last week was given a seven-day jail term. He pleaded guilty to a charge of being intoxicated while in control of a car.

The magistrate said accused had a good record, according to a report from the probation officer. He said he would impose a one-month suspension on Castle if the defendant agreed to not drive except for business purposes for six months. Castle consented to that undertaking.

Previous suspensions imposed by Magistrate Hall for this type of conviction were for a one-year duration.

First seedling grapes of the season arrived in Victoria today from California. Further shipments will be received next week.

Okanagan cherries are arriving daily. Okanagan preserving apricots are expected around July 18.

Citrus fruit is plentiful and will remain so for several weeks at least. Some apples are available but supplies are cleaning up. Bananas are scarce.

Eddy Company Buys Controlling Interest In Local Roofing Plant

R. W. Mayhew, president of Sidney Roofing and Paper Co. Ltd., today confirmed an Ottawa announcement of the purchase of a controlling interest in the company by the E. B. Eddy Paper Company.

The Ottawa announcement was made by W. S. Kidd, president of the E. B. Eddy Company.

The controlling interest in the Victoria firm was sold to the Eddy company by Garfield Weston, Canadian financier now living in Ottawa, who had held it since 1945.

Mr. Mayhew said Sidney Roofing and Paper Company would gain many advantages through the change in the controlling interest.

The Eddy company had a large research organization which would be made available to Sidney Roofing Company.

No change in personnel or production was contemplated.

The Victoria company manufactures paper board, roofing and other building materials, and through Mr. Weston, owned National Paper Box Company of Vancouver.

The company also is the distributor in Western Canada of various insulation materials, wallboards, floor tile, sidings and similar materials.

There is said to be no connection between the Eddy Paper Company and the Eddy Match Company which recently bought out the Western Match Company here.

Astronomer Denies Using Sun Theory To Depress People

"Pure propaganda," said Dr. K. O. Wright of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Saanich, with regard to certain statements made by a Russian astronomer that some theories held by American astronomers were signs of subversion to capitalism.

Mr. Wright was referring to a book written by Professor Vorontzoff-Velyaminov, a noted Soviet astronomer, who claimed that American astronomers who held the theory of the eventual explosion of the sun were "concerned" with creating a sense of depression among the American people.

While the Russian was a pretty good astronomer, Mr. Wright said his statements were utterly ridiculous. He pointed out that such theories concerning the sun were not widely accepted among North American astronomers.

"But we do know the sun is using up its energy," he stated.

Harry F. Seaton, 2303 Spring Street, was remanded to next Thursday afternoon on a charge of careless driving, when he appeared in Saanich police court Thursday afternoon.

Successful Carnival

The recent carnival staged by the Victoria Optimist Club here was a "complete success, financially and otherwise," members stated at a luncheon meeting at Loughheed's Banquet Hall Thursday.

All proceeds will go toward boys' work in the city, but no figure was available as returns are still coming in.

Woman Injured In Saanich Accident

A possible fractured collarbone, was sustained by Mrs. A. McD. Munsell, Queen's Avenue, Sidney, Thursday afternoon, when the car driven by her husband crashed into a telephone pole on East Saanich Road, north of the Royal Oak Cemetery, Saanich police report. She was taken to Jubilee Hospital.

Sgt. Jack Hamilton and Constable Robert Adrian attended the accident. They said the car driven by Allen McD. Munsell was apparently trying to pass another car when it went out of control and wound up smashing into the pole. The power line was snapped by the impact, which also sent the car bouncing back onto the road. Police said there were skid marks for 72 feet before the pole was struck.

Rotarians Hear Grim Facts About Texas Explosion

Stewart Evans, former British vice-consul and Lloyd's agent at Galveston, Texas, presented some interesting sidelights from the disastrous explosion at Texas City on April 16, 1947, in an address at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club, at the Empress Hotel Thursday.

Mr. Evans told how the French ship, Grand Camp, which was loaded with ammonium nitrate fertilizer, caught fire and exploded, causing several other vessels at the Texas City dock to explode. The speaker, who at the time of the blast was going to his office to make a report to Lloyd's of London, saw the smoke from the explosion rise up and take the shape of a huge mushroom, similar to pictures of the Bikini explosion.

Casualties were extremely heavy. Mr. Evans related, and to this day approximately 400 bodies have not been found. The speaker told of an almost incredible incident where the anchor of the French vessel was blown an estimated four and a half miles in the air and landed a mile and a half away from the explosion, and was almost completely buried in the ground after it fell back to earth. The city was being rebuilt rapidly, he continued, but such a cargo never again would be loaded in that vicinity.

THEY SAY WE ARE DOOMED

VOTERS IN VICTORIA AS WELL AS across Canada will long ago have penetrated the C.C.F. tactic of setting up tremendous difficulties for the country and then advertising themselves as the only ones competent to avert catastrophe. It is an old dodge—the Socialist Party cannot even claim originality in using it—but its success presupposes an audience that has no understanding of what is going on in the world. Such audiences are not the rule in this Dominion.

We have the C.C.F. candidate in Nanaimo, for instance, telling us that "the world is closer to disaster now than it has ever been in living memory." While he uttered this comment, his counterpart in the Victoria riding was voicing the prediction that "the signs we have seen in recent weeks mark the beginning of a depression." Similar ominous portents are being seen—by the C.C.F.—and made public on platforms throughout Canada. But demands for facts to back up such assertions are met by vague generalities and inconclusive figures. And the proposed cure is equally unsatisfactory—the creation of boards, commissions, governing bodies and other groups which would plan, supervise and generally run our lives in conformity with the theories and hopes of these unfired politicians.

Take the matter of employment. The C.C.F. claims it would guarantee full employment if put into power at Ottawa. Yet the Socialists soft-pedal the hard fact that to carry out such a promise would mean absolute control over the labor force. If there were men out of work in Victoria and jobs available in the nickel mines in Sudbury, for example, the C.C.F., to carry out its program, would have to move the men to the mines. No totalitarian state has existed long without discovering that to carry out its policies, force was necessary. There would be a very thin dividing line between "asking" the men to go to Sudbury, and "telling" them to go. If the success of a C.C.F. administration depended upon use of the latter tactic there can be no doubt that it would be applied, on the grounds that the national emergency required it. Then, of course, the common man and woman of Canada could say good-bye to freedom—as the common man and woman in a score of countries already have said it. But these are things that are pushed into the background when the grandiose promises of the C.C.F. are being tossed to the public. The public, if it is wise, will look behind the Socialist facade and see the real truth.

STILL GOING STRONG

FEW OF THOSE WHO WERE TAKING part, and certainly few of those who read about its inauguration, could have expected that the Berlin airlift, which began one year ago next Sunday, would still be in operation at this date. Conceived as a temporary and very expensive substitute for land transport, the project rapidly grew into the greatest sustained aerial supply assignment the world has ever seen. The average cargo tonnage arriving in Berlin by way of British and American aircraft each day was equal to that carried by 22 freight trains. In one record 24-hour period, 12,940 tons were ferried. In all, the year's operation will have logged more than 1,000,000 air miles and 1,941,000 tons of freight.

These are figures of immense importance to the future of air transport. They provide pertinent answers regarding the possibilities of maintaining populations—or large bodies of troops—on any part of the globe's surface. And they point to staggering achievements in the way of aircraft performance and maintenance which would not normally have been so demonstrated.

The future of the airlift is at the moment unpredictable. The lifting of the Berlin blockade by the Russians was quickly followed by a railway strike that reimposed the need for an aerial supply line. It was fortunate that western plans had called for a continuance of the work despite the lifting of the blockade, in order to build up a stockpile. In Berlin that would safeguard western interests in the event of a resumption of "tough" tactics by the Soviets. The men and the equipment will be on the job as the second year begins, and they seem to have proved their ability to keep going while any need remains.

CHANGED ATTITUDE

ANOTHER "BALKAN PROBLEM" HAS been added to the long list recorded by history, as a result of the agreement in principle on an Austrian peace treaty achieved by the Big Four Foreign Ministers at Paris. Yugoslavia has denounced the arrangement and declared that it "will never abandon its territorial and reparations claims" on that country. That, of course, is a matter which may not be within the power of Yugoslavia to decide; but the Paris agreement furnishes an interesting sidelight on Russian methods in international negotiation.

For three years the Soviet Union supported Yugoslav claims to Austrian territory and war reparations, citing ponderous legal, ethnic and historic arguments to bolster the case. Western allies, of course, opposed the claims on ethical grounds. Then came the expulsion of the nationalistic Yugoslav leader, Marshal Tito, from the good graces of the Kremlin. Where are the "legal, ethnic and historic arguments" today? Gone, along with Russian friendship for the former Balkan Communist ally.

There was no consideration of Yugoslav claims at Paris, and that country's desires are not mentioned in the resulting agreement, although the U.S.S.R. was granted $150,000,000 in Austrian reparations and certain other considerations. As usual, the Soviet tactic has been to battle strongly for an ally if such a step appeared to be in Russia's favor, regardless of its merits, but to ignore the issue if no benefit for Moscow was involved. Political considerations come first; questions of principle take a secondary place.

GEORGE AND "BAX"

NOT UNTIL THE VOTES HAVE BEEN counted next Monday night will the Canadian people learn how the Drew-Duplessis "deal" in Quebec has paid off. Seventy-three members are to be elected in the Ancient Province. In some ridings as many as six candidates are bidding for one seat. Only in eight constituencies will there be a straight fight between a Liberal and a Progressive Conservative.

What seems to be causing quite a discussion among the guiding lights of the Tory hierarchy in Ontario, however, is the publicity being given to an interview which Mr. George Drew had with Mr. Beverley Baxter, the former Canadian who is now Conservative member of the British House of Commons for the important Middlesex riding of Wood Green, when the former Premier of Ontario was in Britain discussing immigration prospects. According to the London magazine, Everybody's Weekly, which published a full account of the chat, Mr. Drew said:

"Bax, I want British stock for Ontario. We can take thousands and thousands of your people. The one thing that can keep the French-Canadian pressure within bounds is a strong Ontario peopled by British stock."

As one Tory to another, of course, this may have suited both at the time. But now the national leader of Canada's Progressive Conservative Party is sponsoring advertising in French-language newspapers in Quebec attacking the Liberal government at Ottawa for bringing in immigrants—"nearly 500,000 in the past few years," Mr. Drew's publicity complains.

It is no secret, by the way, that many voters in Quebec do not want non-French immigration. So the Tory chief, reaching everywhere for French-Canadian ballots in his favor, would appear to be having difficulty in reconciling what he said to his friend "Bax" with the arguments with which he is bolstering his alliance with Premier Duplessis.

SPOKEN PROUDLY

CONCEIVABLY THE TALL BUILDINGS of British Columbia's urban centres have blocked the view of those who live in the cities and left them blind to the advantages enjoyed by others who prefer for themselves the open spaces. In our concern for the "hardships" with which country school teachers are confronted, for instance, we are prone to extend our sympathies to that stalwart section of our citizenry. It is good for us, under these circumstances, to read the letter from Big Bar Creek, Jesmond, B.C., carried in the current issue of The B.C. Teacher. We quote an excerpt:

"May I say that I cannot understand why there is so much condemnation of the 'frontier' type of school building and surroundings, and suggest that in order to recruit teachers to rural schools a film should be made showing the fun of a teacher's life in a log cabin school. We may not have the amenities of the city school, nor their expensive equipment, but we have a mountain range for playground; every conceivable type of nature specimen at our back-door; no traffic dangers—and the children have developed a resourcefulness and sturdiness which makes them masters of the situation in emergencies which would overwhelm the city child."

"The teacher is certainly cut off from social intercourse with her own kind, but she is paid nightly enough to enable her to go outside for vacation, and during the term she has at least time to enjoy her job, to study her pupils, to experience the satisfaction of being of use in the life of her little community."

"Why do people commiserate with her on the grounds that they imagine is hard? Because they do not know how great are her privileges."

That is speaking proudly. The opinion expressed symbolizes the spirit parents anywhere might wish to find among the people to whom they entrust the job of helping to train their children. It is, moreover, the frame of mind that has helped British Columbia reach its present stage of development. The letter writer has called the highbrows down from the "ivory tower" for a clear look at a scene that, although close to hand, has escaped their notice.

No one will suggest that the best available facilities should not be furnished for our young people as they follow their academic pursuits. But the teacher from Big Bar Creek has pointedly reminded us that education does not rest solely on physical accommodation or modern teaching aids. The most important factor is the teacher—and the "frontier" type school is not without its representatives of the best in the craft.

Matter Of Fact

By STEWART ALSOP
From Saigon, Indo-China

THE FIGHTING CHANCE

THE FRENCH cannot reconquer this country. French colonial power cannot be restored here. The French know it. Therefore what the French now plan here is simply a holding operation, an attempt to buy time.

For the West, the French holding operation will have an obvious value. It will postpone the chain reaction which the loss of Indo-China to the Communists, following immediately on the heels of the loss of China, would almost certainly produce throughout southeast Asia. But postponement is not enough.

THE FRENCH plan to create what they call a "redoubt," a centre of military power, across the eastern coastal route of infiltration by the Chinese Communists. To this end, they mean to root out Ho Chi-minh's guerrillas from a quadrilateral area bounded by Langson, Monca, Hanoi and Haiphong. This redoubt will not seal the Indo-Chinese borders. In the mountainous thick jungle of the interior, that is impossible. But, by cutting off the coastal route, the redoubt will confine contact across the borders to jungle trails.

The ultimate purpose of this holding operation is to allow time for the organization of an independent Viet Nam government and army under the titular and possibly temporal leadership of the former emperor, Bao Dai. This government and army will then have the task of doing what the French cannot do—reducing Ho Chi-minh's following to a hard Communist core and establishing an independent Indo-China.

HERE ARE those here who believe this French plan is nonsense. Bao Dai is a rather pathetic French stooge, so the argument runs. He can never attract the essential nationalist support. The French army and colonial services are determined to sabotage an independent Viet Nam government in any case. For these reasons it is said that the last and only hope, here as in China, is an attempt to promote the apostasy of the Communist leadership.

It is true that the same conditions for Communist independence exist here as in China. It is also true that Ho Chi-minh flatly told an American diplomat some time ago that he had lost his faith in communism and was no longer a member of the party. This is very, very far for a national Communist leader to go. But the signs are that Ho Chi-minh's non-communism is about as real as the Chinese Communists' alleged gentle agrarianism.

FOR IT IS known that Ho has been regularly dispatching emissaries to Moscow (through Paris interestingly, not China). In the meantime Ho's radio (which at first never mentioned the word communism) now spouts the straight Kremlin line.

The plain fact is that, after what has happened in China, the West simply cannot afford any risk at all of losing Indo-China. This country is like a great muscular finger crooked around Siam and probing into the heart of southeast Asia. Its loss will be the first stage of catastrophe. What can the United States, as leader of the West, do?

BEFORE coming to the Orient, this reporter suspected that the new postwar Asiatic nationalism was largely a surface phenomenon, articulated by a handful of intellectuals. It is nothing of the sort. It is a deep and universal force. Already the West has been manoeuvred into the position of seeming to be the enemies of Asiatic nationalism, while Moscow masquerades as its champion. If this process is allowed to continue indefinitely, in the unanimous opinion of the best observers in the Orient, the West will surely lose Asia. The West must halt the process.

Thus what cannot be done is obvious. An American policy which supports, or seems to support, the moribund remnants of French colonialism in Asia would be sheer folly. An American army program in aid of a French colonial army in a war which that army can never really win would be absolutely fatal to American interests throughout Asia.

WHAT CAN BE done is also obvious. The United States can support the Viet Nam experiment here with energy and determination. She can publicly insist, so to speak, on the reality of Viet Nam's independence—which will certainly deeply irritate a good many of the French.

To this end the United States should as soon as practicable offer general American diplomatic, economic and military aid to the independent Viet Nam government and army which the French are now officially promoting. The real weakness of Viet Nam does not lie in the fact that Viet Nam's ruler, Bao Dai, was a playboy in his youth. It lies in the universal conviction that Bao Dai is the puppet of French colonialism, and thus as clearly doomed as French colonialism, while Ho Chi-minh rides the wave of the future.

If the West is to have even a fighting chance in Indo-China, this conviction must be changed, and only a determined American policy can change it.

UNDER ANY circumstances, there is in truth no more than a fighting chance here. But a fighting chance is better than no chance at all. And there is still one chance—a Viet Nam government which owes allegiance to no great power. The full weight of American strength should now be brought to bear to promote and support such a government.

Baby Sitting Trouble

As Our Readers See It

THE LIBERAL WAY

As the hour of decision draws near, it would be well for all of us seriously to think of past records.

Canada has always gone ahead when guided by a Liberal government. The worst blot in our history was the hungry '30's, with our youth kicked from pillar to post, and unemployment rampant in the land—with most families on relief rolls.

That's what the Tory government handed the mothers of that time. Let's not have a repeat performance. For the C.C.F., all I can say is a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.

We must go forward, and the only way is the Liberal way.

THAT PRICE LIST

I have received a letter from my daughter in Seattle who was so incensed when she read Mr. Cameron's comparisons of prices in Seattle and in Victoria that she called on her butcher and grocer who said the prices quoted were "red hot" specials. As to the meat prices—the figures must have been from a shop where horse meat is sold, and in a district where you wouldn't like to be seen.

Here are some of the prices paid by my daughter:

Chicken fryers, 65c, not 38c.
Tomatoes, fresh, 22c-25c, not 17c.
Coffee (Chase & Sanborn), 35c, not 49c.
Crisco, per 3-lb. tin, $1.09, not 87c.
Miracle whip, 55c, not 49c.
Sliced side bacon, 72c, not 69c.
Eggs, fresh, large, per dozen, 68c, not 53c.
Honey, 63c, not 49c.
T-bone steak, 89c, not 65c.
Fresh tongues, 39c, not 25c.
Hamburger, 49c, not 39c.
Mr. Cameron failed also to say that there is a 3 per cent sales tax on everything.

Driven By Fear Of Facts

By BRUCE BLOSSAT from Washington

THE STATE DEPARTMENT credits Russia with winning the first phase of its big radio war with the United States and Britain.

But the victory apparently was costly. And it may prove a hollow triumph, too, for it suggests that Winston Churchill was right when he said the Russian leaders are afraid to be friendly with us.

CLEAR SIGN

Russia has always tried to interfere on a minor scale with western broadcasts of news beamed to the Soviet Union. When the Berlin blockade was lifted, however, this "jamming" was stepped up tremendously. The action was a clear sign the Soviet leaders did not want any version but their own getting to Russian ears.

Jamming may take many forms. The jamming transmitter comes on the air at or near the airplane used by the foreign broadcaster, and lets fly with whistles, squawks, buzzing, ear-splitting music, a gibberish of talk, anything at all that might drown out the offending program.

Since the end of the blockade, the Russians have been playing this game hard. Our "Voice of America" officials report that they have tripled the number of stations devoted to jamming, until some 205 transmitters do nothing else.

Our "Voice" people have not submitted to this campaign easily. We have increased the number of transmitters in service and plan still more. We have resorted to every device we can think up to break through the interference screen.

AROUND THE CLOCK

Our programs stay on around the clock. Transmitters change wave lengths (airlines) in the middle of a broadcast, hoping any Russian listeners have enough sense to fish elsewhere and pick up some words of truth before the jamming station catches on. We teach our broadcasters to speak clearly and loud, so they may be heard above the din.

This fighting response has driven the Russians to extremes. Tripling their total of jamming stations has meant cutting down the number of domestic programs in the Soviet Union and has crippled Russian propaganda broadcasts to foreign listeners.

At this heavy price, says the State Department, the Russians have largely beaten us. Our programs now are getting through "only in spots," officials say.

But one wonders how long the Soviet leaders can continue this extravagant desperation. One wonders, too, if the Russians have any idea how great an admission of fear their jamming war really is.

The few westerners allowed into Russia gain no real knowledge of life in a Communist world. Nor are Russians permitted to learn of the west from their visitors.

That Communist leaders now feel compelled to extend this veil of ignorance to the airlines is evidence their people must be trying to find out what the rest of the world is actually like.

CONCEALING MUCH

It lends weight to Churchill's view: The Russian bosses cannot afford to accept western friendship. They are concealing too much, both from their own people and from us. They have everything to lose. What else but fear could explain this frenzied torrent of meaningless sounds against mere news broadcasts?

British Bobbies

London (Ont.) Free Press

Apparently there is a feeling in official circles in Britain that a policeman's lot should be a happier one, or at least one which receives due recognition.

A report on British constabulary says the beat system has established a front-line contact between the police and all classes of the community. In a burst of enthusiasm rather unexpected in a British official publication it continues: "The public have come to welcome the appearance of the best officer. He is the person they want to see about; he is a part of the familiar scene and the symbol of their protection."

This is no overstatement.

By DeWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press News Analyst

JOHN FOSTER DULLES says "events may be shaping up to a new and intense struggle" within the Soviet Union and the satellite countries.

He adds that "Soviet leadership is having to contend with problems in the satellite countries where there is steadily growing revolt against the extreme intolerance of Soviet communism." Speaking of Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland, Dulles declares that the people of these countries "will not willingly accept rigorous conformity to a pattern of life made for them in Moscow."

I quote Dulles because he long has been a student of Soviet Russian affairs, and has exceptional opportunities to secure information. He is a member of the United States delegation to the United Nations and attended the Big Four Foreign Ministers' Council meeting just concluded in Paris.

MOSCOW DIFFICULTIES

The evidence is complete enough that there is no place in this day and age for totalitarian dictatorships, no matter what ideological banner they fly. The rank and file won't stand for such regimentation indefinitely—especially dictatorships imposed by foreign countries.

The signs multiply that Moscow is having difficulties, perhaps at home but certainly among the satellites. The outstanding case, of course, is that of the premier Balkan state of Yugoslavia which, under leadership of hard-boiled Marshal Tito, has refused to surrender its sovereignty to Moscow. However, there is dissension in other satellites, and purges have been reported recently.

As might be expected, some of the worst clashes revolve about the Communist attack on religion. Fresh trouble was reported yesterday by a Vatican source in Rome. It was stated that two leading bishops of the outlawed Uniate Church in Romania (the Uniate Church is a branch of the Roman Catholic faith) have been put to torture by Communist officials in an effort to break their allegiance to the Pope.

Meantime in Czechoslovakia Catholic Archbishop Joseph Beran is fighting attempts of the country's Communist regime to get control of the church. The position there is tense, with public feeling running high.

Similar situations exist in Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary and from far-off northern Korea comes word of widespread strife between the Roman Catholic Church and the Communist government.

As pointed out in a previous column, this total of religion to knuckle under may well prove to be the greatest obstacle which Bolshevism has to overcome in its efforts to sovietize the world. It is a cardinal tenet of atheistic communism that religion is the dope of the masses and must be destroyed. But that's easier decreed than done.

The doctrines of the major religions controvert what totalitarian Bolshevism stands for. Therefore the world can't be communized so long as it clings to religion. Thus the drive to spread atheism must continue.

YOUNG MEN IN POLITICS

Montreal Star

There was a time when men did not go into politics until they had made their way in other spheres of life. The average candidate was a man who, having made his career elsewhere, turned to politics as a second career or as a major diversion of his later years. Today, the number of men much younger in years presenting themselves for public office provides the most heartening proof of the health of our democracy.

ASPIRIN ONLY

New York Times

It was after hours and the old copy reader was on his way to a drug store on Times Square for some aspirin. A copy reader, or copy editor, was defined in this space some years ago as "the man who patiently sits between the reporter or correspondent and you, the reader; he weighs, evaluates and sorts the day's news, strikes out the dubious, the trivial, rearranges logically that which, in his judgment, is worth your while as a reader, edits it into a concise, readable account—and then writes for it the headline that summarizes the story and simplifies your reading of it." It is, then, not surprising that occasionally a copy reader has need of aspirin. The old-timer, having made his purchase, looked about and observed that he was, in a way, sorry to see that old-fashioned pharmacists had given way to such gaudy emporiums.

Know Your LIBERAL LEADERS

The Honorable Milton Fowler Gregg, V.C., M.C., M.A., C.B.E., has been soldier, automobile salesman, Sergeant-At-Arms and University president. Today he is Canada's Minister of Veterans' Affairs.

Born in New Brunswick in 1892, he became a school principal, later enrolling at Acadia University. In 1914 he enlisted as a private in the Royal Highlanders, saw action at Ypres and was wounded at Festubert. As a commissioned officer, he served in the King's Own Lancasters. In 1917 he was again wounded, but returned to the front to see action at Cambrai in 1918 when his gallantry won for him the Victoria Cross. Wounded a third time, he was invalided home to Canada where he resumed his university studies at Dalhousie.

Following this, he became an automobile salesman, then Sergeant-At-Arms at Ottawa. He held this latter post until 1939 when he enlisted again to serve in the Second World War. His duties led him to Valcartier, Quebec, where he was second-in-command for mobilization overseas. His own posting overseas followed. Returning to Canada, he took charge of the Officer Cadet Corps at Camp Borden. This service led to further duties at Brockville and at Vernon, B.C.

Upon the cessation of hostilities, he was invited to assume the post of President of the New Brunswick University. His service here was but temporary, however. His name was chosen to represent the Liberal Party when a by-election was held. He is the member for York-Sudbury and, as a veteran of two wars, ably and competently serves Canada now as Minister of Veterans' Affairs.

Mayhew Says He Has Accomplished Much As Spokesman For Projects

Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew frankly told an election rally Thursday night that he himself had accomplished nothing for Victoria during his 12-year-term in Ottawa but acting as a spokesman and liaison officer for many local projects much had been accomplished for this area.

Addressing a meeting in the Lamson Street School, the federal Liberal candidate in Victoria devoted his entire address to answering charges of his Progressive Conservative opponent, Gordon A. Cameron.

Challenged by Mr. Cameron to list the things he had achieved for Victoria, said: "If he means the things that I have accomplished without aid and co-operation of other people in the city the answer is nil. If he means the improvements that have been made to the city in which I was a partner with the provincial government, the city and municipal governments, the Chamber of Commerce, veterans' associations and other organizations, then the list is a fairly lengthy one and important."

He said also that representatives should not be asked to list their accomplishments. It was the overall assistance given individuals and the part played in the national scheme of things which counted, he said.

Nevertheless, Mr. Mayhew recalled he had worked for the establishment of air mail and air passenger service to Victoria; the building of the two fishermen's floats; dredging of the harbor; erection of the veterans' hospital; building of the new post office and construction of a speed highway to link Patricia Bay and Victoria.

VETERANS' T.B. UNIT

He said the completion of the program for veterans' hospitalization in this area required yet a further unit to provide accommodation for tuberculosis patients who are nearing the convalescent stage.

He mentioned also that he had helped secure a $12,000 grant to assist Esquimalt in repairing streets and had, with Trade Minister C. D. Howe, arranged for Esquimalt to put an overall plan for repair work before the federal government.

While Mr. Cameron had charged that war allowances and grants to veterans were too low, Mr. Mayhew said they were the highest in the world. In reply to Mr. Cameron's charge that Imperial pensioners in Canada were unfairly treated he said it was fundamental that pensions should be based on service not on something as irrelevant as the place where the pensioner decided to live. In answer to Mr. Cameron's charges that merchant seamen have been unfairly treated, he said, "what the merchant marine men lost by not coming under the D.V.A. they made up during the war by a far higher basic rate of pay plus danger money when in enemy waters."

Mr. Mayhew also described as inaccurate the comparison of Victoria and Seattle food prices issued by Mr. Cameron. The prize boner, he said, was Mr. Cameron's listing of T-bone steak at 65 cents per pound in Seattle and 95 cents here. The actual price, Mr. Mayhew said, was $1.05 in Seattle and 65 cents here.

SEES LIBERAL VICTORY

Ralph Campney, Liberal candidate in Vancouver Centre, said the Liberal government had done a good job in every field.

"The Liberal government on Monday will be swept into power by one of the largest majorities in history," he said.

Mr. Campney branded George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, as "an arrogant Tory of about 1850 who has come over into this century." He described Prime Minister St. Laurent as "one of the great Canadians of all time."

The Conservatives had always been the party of privilege and big business, he said. As for the C.C.F., he said, it was a party of promises, born in depression and still talking in terms of depression.

"Socialism hasn't worked in Saskatchewan," he said. "It hasn't worked in Great Britain. I don't think it will work here." Also speaking in support of Mr. Mayhew were Richard Reeve and Mrs. Nancy Hodges, member-elect of the B.C. Legislature for Victoria.

MAYHEW'S ACTIVITIES

Mr. Reeve listed Mr. Mayhew's activities, saying he had held these posts: Local and national director of the Y.M.C.A. for 35 years; president of the B.C. Manufacturers' Association; and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association; director and president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and the Victoria Rotary Club; president of the Prince of Wales Fairbridge Farm School and councillor and reeve of Oak Bay. He said he had also helped organize the first Community Chest campaign in Victoria and had been active in it ever since.

Mrs. Hodges said that all the good social welfare legislation had been put there by successive Liberal governments. She mentioned that Liberal governments had provided old-age pensions; unemployment insurance and family allowance legislation, as well as undertaking a $160,000,000 five-year health program.

She noted also that Liberal governments had introduced the National Housing Act and the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation; that one of out every three homes built last year was financed with federal funds and that one out of every 12 Canadians now was living in a home constructed since the war.

A chimney fire at 617 Michigan Street and a minor blaze, caused when an oil stove exploded in the house at 589 Toronto Street, were put out by city firemen Thursday.

B.C. Coal Output Shows Gain In May

B.C. coal production for May totaled 147,956 short tons, the provincial mines department reported Thursday, a jump from 133,652 tons for May of last year.

On Vancouver Island, coal mines turned out 49,123 tons, a gain from 45,943 tons for the previous May. The biggest increase was shown by the Sable River mine, which last month raised 6,115 tons, claiming third place among Vancouver Island producers.

Top producer among island collieries in May was No. 10 Mine, South Wellington. It produced 19,866 tons, compared with 17,999 tons produced by Comox Colliery No. 8 Mine.

The two biggest producing mines in the province, however, are in the east. Kootenay's Michel Colliery last month produced 69,336 tons and Elk River Colliery 28,271 tons.

Poupore Claims Pearkes Taking Credit For Liberal Proposals

In a lashing verbal attack against Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, William E. Poupore, Liberal candidate for Nanaimo federal riding, charged the Progressive Conservative candidate with "insincerity" and taking the credit for achievements proposed by the federal Liberal administration.

Mr. Poupore, who addressed a meeting at St. Mark's Hall, said for four years Maj.-Gen. Pearkes had been posing as the originator of many proposals made by Liberal members in the House of Commons.

"They say it is time for a change in political parties," said the candidate. "Well, I say it is time for a change in the Nanaimo riding."

Mr. Poupore said the federal Liberal Party had made a good choice in electing Mr. St. Laurent as head of the Liberal government. "He has proved himself to be a real Canadian," said the speaker, "and he has also proved himself an international man through his work at the San Francisco conference and the part he played in the Atlantic Pact."

He claimed that the Progressive Conservatives were making a lot of promises without hope of ever fulfilling them. "They have forgotten it takes taxes to pay for things," said the speaker. Stating that the Liberal Party had worked out an expensive program, to fit the needs of the day, Mr. Poupore said Liberals were well aware that there was more work to be done, hospitals to be built and research work carried out.

"Our program will be carried out," he said. "We know we have made mistakes, but what party has not made mistakes?" The candidate described the Progressive Conservatives as a "happy people with no history" and who were rather reluctant to talk about their past achievements.

Speaking in support of the Nanaimo candidate, Jack Rutman, lawyer, explained that the Liberal government had accumulated budget surpluses in order to pay Canada's debt.

He denied the Progressive Conservative claim that Canada was over-taxed. He pointed out taxes had been gradually cut down since 1946 and would continue to decrease as the Dominion's debt was paid off.

Mr. Rutman contended there was no fundamental issue in the elections between the two major parties.

Failure of the Dominion-Provincial Conference in 1946 was blamed by Mr. Rutman on the Progressive Conservative leader George Drew and Premier Duplessis of Quebec. He contended the two men had joined together in what he described "an unholy alliance" to wreck the conference which would have benefited Canada had it been successful.

Speaking with regard to navy prize-money, Mr. Rutman said the money was serving a more useful purpose in the benevolent fund. He claimed if the money had been distributed to the men they would have received small sums amounting to no more than $10 apiece.

Dennis Sheppard, president of the Student Liberal Club at the University of B.C., said it was in the interest of young people to vote for the Liberal government.

He claimed there was no hope of the C.C.F. getting into power. "Mr. Coldwell admits there is no hope of his party winning the elections," said the student, "but he does hope to oust the Tories as the official opposition."

Mr. Sheppard claimed there were two types of C.C.F. followers, namely, rabid doctrinaire Socialists and "Liberals in a hurry."

He said any C.C.F. followers who were in favor of solid reforms should vote on the side of the Liberal Party.

The first motion picture theatre was opened in 1902 at Los Angeles, Calif., admission was a dime.

CLAIMS WORLD RECORD—Mrs. John Stephen, Conway Road, Saanich, claims her Mexican Chihuahua, Bonnie Belle, has set a new record for her breed. Monday, Bonnie Belle gave birth to nine pups. For this species of dog, Mrs. Stephens says, a litter of three or four is considered normal. Bonnie Belle's family was delivered by Dr. R. E. Cranston, who performed a Caesarean section. The pups are being fed by bottle as the mother cannot accommodate them all.

King, Queen At Middle, Inner Temple Events Next Month

LONDON (CP)—London lawyers are keeping their diaries clear for two important dates in July—opening of the newly-repaired Middle Temple hall by the Queen July 6 and opening of the Inner Temple temporary library by the King July 12.

The Queen will open the Middle Temple hall in her capacity of treasurer of the Honorable Society of the Middle Temple. On July 19 both the King and Queen will dine with members of the Inner and Middle Temple.

At the height of the blitz the Middle Temple suffered severe damage. The temple church is all but gone, though the adjacent Norman round tower still stands. The library of the Elizabethan hall was destroyed and no fewer than 112 sets of chambers battered into uselessness. The Inner Temple and Gray's Inn also suffered.

TO NEW WORLD

Some say that American history was made in the Middle Temple. The Declaration of Independence bears the names of five of its sons, while on the Constitution of the United States are the names of three Middle Templars—John Rutledge of South Carolina, Jared Ingersoll of Pennsylvania and William Livingston of New Jersey. It was Rutledge who prepared the draft of the constitution.

The Middle Temple also had associations with Canada, "both before and after the American revolution, and with other British dominions. The Middle Temple hall, planned and erected between 1562 and 1574 under the patronage of Queen Elizabeth, is recognized by authorities as a crowning glory of Tudor architecture.

After a disastrous air raid on Oct. 15, 1940, damage to the hall caused by a land mine seemed irreparable. A huge piece of masonry was hurled through its eastern end, smashing the gallery and burying a valuable oak screen beneath a mass of rubble.

Eaton Remnants Run Excursion To Duncan

On July 1 all roads will lead to Duncan, and Eaton's Remnants, in co-operation with the E. and N. Railway, will operate a special excursion train with stops at Langford, Shawnigan and Cobble Hill.

City and suburban bus schedules will make connections with this train, which will arrive in Duncan at 10.25 in time for the grand carnival parade. Returning, the train will leave Duncan at 6.05, arriving in Victoria at 7.45.

A committee under Noel French is in charge of transportation. Tickets may be purchased from the C.P.R. ticket office or from the members of Eaton's Remnants.

Organizations Across Canada Urge Every Elector Mark Ballot

By CANADIAN PRESS

"Vote for me!" cried the politician. "Vote!" urged those aware that an uncast ballot is a step away from democracy.

Across Canada during the last seven weeks two parallel campaigns were waged as the country pointed to June 27, election day. On the one hand, 848 candidates and their supporters fought to attract the voters on a personal basis, as was their right. On the other, many disinterested bodies tried just as hard to see that Canadians exercised their democratic right to vote—for any one.

In the forefront of the campaign were newspapers, radio stations, chambers of commerce, boards of trade, veterans' associations, service clubs and individual business leaders. Many and diverse were the methods used to stir a potential 8,000,000 voters into going to the polls Monday to elect a government truly representative of a majority of the people.

In constant use was the old slogan: "Vote as you please, but vote." But there were others. In Vancouver, it was: "It's vital—vote." In Montreal: "The mark of a good citizen—X." Each city had its favorite.

The young men's section of the Montreal Board of Trade conducted a scientific sampling of potential voters that pointed up the need of the get-out-and-vote campaign. It reported that 21.3 per cent of eligible voters in Montreal don't intend to exercise their franchise. Of that number, 41.7 per cent said they were "not interested"; 7.9 per cent were "too busy" and 7.7 per cent "can't be bothered."

LEGION'S CAMPAIGN

The Canadian Legion early in the campaign launched its "Operation Vote." Its 2,000 branches co-operate with community organizations, pressing Canadians by newspaper advertisements, radio and poster to get out and vote. In Regina, in Winnipeg, in Toronto, in Victoria—in almost every city and town—the various chambers of commerce and similar organizations posted stickers on telephone polls and walls, and on streetcar windows, and used other means of broadcasting the message: "Vote."

The campaign's result will be known Monday night. That's when the popular vote tables will show whether more voters turned out than the 5,246,130 who did so in the 1945 election.

Honor Sole Graduate At James Island

JAMES ISLAND—Angus McCreesh, sole graduate of James Island School, was honored at the second annual graduation dinner presented by the James Island Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. S. D. Scott, president of the P.T.A., replied to the toast to the organization and presented a gift to the guest of honor, W. P. Jeanne was guest speaker.

Inquest Monday On Logger's Death

MESACHIE LAKE—An inquest will be held here Monday night at 7.30, on the death of Thomas Canich, about 40, a handfeller employed by the Hillcrest Lumber Co. Ltd., who was killed Thursday during logging operations.

According to B.C. Police at Lake Cowichan, Canich was cutting down a snag when the top broke off. He fell on his head and died en-route to a first-aid station.

Police said it was understood Canich had a wife and two children in Yugoslavia and a cousin in Vancouver.

Liberal Claims On Ottawa Taxes Unjust, Incorrect, Says Cameron

Liberal claims British Columbia is receiving full value for the money it pays into the national treasury are both unjust and incorrect, Gordon A. Cameron, Progressive Conservative candidate in Victoria, told an election rally in the Seamen's Institute Hall Thursday night.

"The simple fact is that, in spite of the great claims now being made by the Liberals, the government at Ottawa is taking out of this province $70,000,000 more than it spends here," said Mr. Cameron. He was referring to statements of Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew that Ottawa collects $187,000,000 in taxes in B.C. and returns $220,000,000 in grants, family allowances, pensions and other benefits.

"Liberals speakers do not make it clear that the $187,000,000 they are receiving is in the payment of direct taxes only," said Mr. Cameron.

"They have said nothing about the indirect taxes that the people of this province are paying to Ottawa."

"On the basis of per capita spending this province is contributing more than $100,000,000 a year to Ottawa in indirect taxation alone. The Liberals might explain what part of this is being returned."

"Actually in total taxes to the national government this province is paying nearly $300,000,000 instead of the $187,000,000 that the Liberals claim."

What becomes of British Columbia's share in $293,000,000 in customs import duties, $197,000,000 in excise duties, $640,000,000 in excise taxes, including the federal sales tax, and $109,000,000 in other indirect taxes, he asked. "Each time we buy a suit of clothes or a shirt or an automobile or a radio or a package of cigarettes, we make another contribution to the Dominion government," he said.

Fill In To Eliminate Road Curve At Sooke

SOOKE—Workmen engaged on construction work on the Sooke Road are preparing to make a fill in, over the deep stream which flows into Coopers Cove, about 19 miles from Victoria, and two miles west of the Seventeen Mile House.

This will allow the road to be placed lower downstream and will also eliminate the road curve, which now rises over the old bridge at this point.

It is believed the Sooke Road will soon be oiled on the recently improved and widened stretches.

Canada's Top-Flight Women Writers Here This Week-End

When H.M.C.S. Crescent docks in the Inner Harbor at 6.30 p.m. this evening, it will mark the beginning of three days of social engagements for more than 100 press, radio, advertising and publicity women from Victoria to Halifax.

The visit to Victoria culminates a busy week for the visitors, who have been attending the 11th Canadian Women's Press Club Triennial, commenced last Monday in Vancouver and concluding this week-end in Victoria.

This afternoon's trip aboard the Crescent, arranged through the courtesy of Rear-Admiral H. G. DeWolf, Flag Officer, Pacific Coast, was a highlight on the week's program. Officers and men aboard the ship were briefed to answer questions; a loud speaker system kept the various paperwomen informed of news places of interest on the journey. Afternoon tea was served.

Arriving in Victoria the visitors will "check in" at the Empress Hotel and within half an hour will be dressed in their most attractive formal for the government dinner being given in their honor this evening in the Crystal Ballroom at the Empress Hotel. Hon. Herbert Anscomb and Mrs. Anscomb with other members of the cabinet and their wives will receive the guests and Mrs. Nancy Hodges will be the evening's speaker. Press club memorial awards will be presented.

Saturday afternoon individual automobile dealers of Victoria are sponsoring a scenic drive for the visitors and in the evening the Victoria Times and the Victoria Daily Colonist will be hosts at a picnic supper at the Experimental Farm.

On Sunday Hon. W. C. Woodward and Mrs. Woodward will receive the visitors at their Saanich Peninsula home, where Sunday brunch will be served on the lawn.

New Executive Named

Mrs. Reta Myers, Vancouver newspaperwoman well known throughout Canada, was this morning elected president of the Canadian Women's Press Club at the convention in Vancouver. For many years social editor of the Vancouver Daily Province, she later became publicity director of the Red Cross. She retired from the latter position a few months ago and now writes television script.

Other officers named at this morning's session were Mrs. Marjorie Oliver, London, Ont., vice-president; provincial presidents, Mrs. Helen Murphy, Quebec; Miss Abbie Lane, Nova Scotia; Mrs. A. E. Ayling, New Brunswick; Miss Kenneth Haig, Manitoba; Miss Winnifred Lee, British Columbia; Miss Eve Henderson, Alberta; Miss Rose Duffie, Saskatchewan; Mrs. Kay Naim, secretary-treasurer; Miss 'Army' Roe, historian; and Miss Thelma Craig, honorary national president.

The new executive will be officially introduced at the government dinner in Victoria tonight.

Your Baby And Mine

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID
GIVE THE OLDER CHILD
A BREAK

No matter how beautifully a child is prepared for the advent of another child in the family, it is pretty impossible to avoid all traces of jealousy. It may be that the child seems happy at having a new brother or sister, and obvious evidences of jealousy are not present; but it would be a strange child who could adjust to this situation without some bitterness and heart-burning.

It's certain that when visitors arrive they may speak politely to the older child but they will rush past him to exclaim and coo over the baby. That's enough to make any child feel left-over and unimportant.

It's just as certain that the mother's attention will be focused largely on the baby. Except when he is sleeping she will be engaged in all the activities which engulf a household where there is an infant. If she has no time left over to spend on the older child it is because there are a fixed number of hours in the day, and not because she has forgotten him.

And parents get pretty peeved when the older child gets noisy, "can't you keep quiet when sister is asleep?" They do not want to be cross but unless the older child is an angel they are certain to be annoyed at having to spend time dealing with his misbehavior, just because time is so precious, and not to be wasted.

The parent it is who must be self-conscious about her treatment of the child in order to dispel jealousy. It is possible, even with limited time, to read or tell stories to an older child while the younger is being fed. The mother can show her lively interest in all the child is doing, even if she cannot co-operate actively in his play.

She must emphasize her love, with tender embraces and praise for being a BIG boy, so that he does not develop a desire to act like the baby in order to compensate for his loss of prestige as an only child.

And, for the time, it might be well to ignore some of his misbehavior rather than to express animosity toward him because of it. He'll get used to sharing his parents with the baby, if parents will feel concern for the difficulty of his adjustment and be considerate of him. Then jealousy will have no fertile ground upon which to grow.

Our leaflet No. 69 "Selfishness and Jealousy," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Woman Professor Forsakes Robes Of Tradition

While university faculty members still cling to the traditional black robes for lectures, there's one woman professor in the country who objects strongly to wearing one to classes.

Prof. Hilda Laird, new head of the German department at Queen's in Kingston, refuses to appear in a gown except at Convocation. This popular woman professor says a gown is awkward for a woman lecturer.

"The chalk from the blackboard sticks to a black robe," Dr. Laird says. "Robes are clumsy and awkward to manage, always catching on the desks. I can't see why we must cling to a medieval custom and be uncomfortable every day of our lives just to keep up tradition. The wearing of robes for Convocation is a different matter."

Prof. Laird points out that since the war, more students are taking up modern languages, especially German. She explains that this is due to large numbers of veterans who picked up a smattering of the language overseas and now are keen to learn it.

During the war, we had a number of classes in German too, as so many young men were preparing to enter the Intelligence branches of the three armed services. Women students were anxious to learn the language in order to obtain positions in the Canadian government censorship bureaus.

Prof. Laird at one time served in the library of the League of Nations at Geneva, Switzerland. It was there that she learned the advantages of being able to read and speak at least three modern tongues.

"We were always meeting interesting people from many countries at the Geneva library," Dr. Laird relates. "Lord Robert Cecil used to drop in and have a cup of tea with us in the library, as did representatives from so many different nations."

Obtaining her B.A. degree at Queen's, Prof. Laird went to the Pratt Institute in New York for her Bachelor's degree in library science. She spent two years in the library at Geneva, then returned to the U.S. Here, she taught cataloguing in the state library at New York and is one of the few Canadian-born persons to have served on the New York State Civil Service. She has visited the library of the United Nations at Lake Success.

After studying for three years in Germany at the Universities of Marburg and Munich, Prof. Laird took her Ph.D. at Cornell. It was then that she returned to Canada to become the first Dean of Women at Ban Righ Hall, the women's residence at Queen's. Later she became a member of the Faculty in Modern Languages. Today, she is head of the German department and is taking an active part in the current Queen's endowment and building campaign.

International Interest

OTTAWA (CP)—A wedding of international interest took place here when Leslie McNaughton, daughter of Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, head of the Canadian delegation to the United Nations, was married to Howard Calvin Sykes Jr. of Englewood, N.J.

A gown of traditional white satin with sweetheart neckline was the costume the bride chose for her wedding in the chapel of the University of Ottawa. Rev. F. W. Noll of Loyola College, Montreal, performed the ceremony. Gen. McNaughton gave his daughter in marriage.

Cameron Tells L.P.P. There Is No Place For Communists Here

Gordon A. Cameron, Progressive Conservative candidate in Victoria, has told the Labor Progressive Party here that there is no place in Canadian democracy for the Communist Party or the policy for which it stands.

The L.P.P. Victoria headquarters had asked Mr. Cameron to explain his stand on the Atlantic Pact and Marshall Plan aid, monopolies, housing, economic security and the Canadian Seamen's Union.

"An answer from you on the above issues will serve as a guide for us in deciding which candidate we will vote for in the coming election," said the request, made over the signature of Doris Blakey, L.P.P. secretary here.

"I want to make it emphatically clear to the Labor Progressive Party and its individual members that I am not seeking their support," said Mr. Cameron, addressing a meeting in the Seamen's Institute Hall Thursday night.

"I want to make it clear that I will not be intimidated by any group, much less a group that is directly associated with the Communist regime in Moscow," he said that the imperialist dictatorial tactics of Soviet Russia were solely responsible for the threat of war in the world today.

"I am firmly convinced that the Atlantic Pact and the Marshall Plan alone have saved us from an aggressive attack aimed at spreading communism throughout the universe," he said.

Events in Poland, Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria constituted "a record of the introduction of communism through the use of force," he said.

His stand on social security, housing and other issues had been clearly stated and was well known to the electorate, Mr. Cameron continued.

"My policies are on record for all to see, including the supporters of communism in Victoria and Canada," he said.

Colin Cameron Says Layoffs Came Following Election

GANGES (Special) — Some British Columbians have been led to believe the provincial Coalition government of Liberals and Progressive Conservatives could prevent unemployment, Colin Cameron, defeated C.C.F. candidate in Comox, said here.

Speaking in Mahon Hall in support of Robert Strachan, C.C.F. candidate in Nanaimo for the Monday federal general election, Mr. Cameron said the fact the people had been misled was evidenced by the closing down of the Woodfibre pump mill the day following the provincial general election.

"The loggers who supplied the mill at Port Alice were also laid off and that mill was due to close down in July," he said.

Mr. Strachan said that in times like these, when production in Canada was showing a tendency to drop, the only way a government could serve the interests of the people and keep industrial production at a high level was by seeing to it that the citizens had adequate purchasing power.

"Public ownership of private banks is vital to proper control over national investment policies, price levels, and over expansion, contraction and direction of credit," he said. "Public ownership of the central bank is not enough. It cannot adequately control the amount of credit and is entirely unable to direct investment into the most desirable channels. Yet these powers are essential to promote economic development, maintain full employment and achieve a greater measure of stability."

C.C.F., Conservatives Lock In 'Phone Pole Poster War

All may be fair in love, war and politics, but the C.C.F. and Progressive Conservatives today are exchanging charges of tearing down each others' posters in the Nanaimo constituency.

According to the Progressive Conservatives the poster war has ranged only along north Quadra Street from the Growers Wine

Co. Ltd. to Royal Oak. The C.C.F. charge that the poster war has extended from one end of the Saanich Peninsula to the other, from Victoria to Nanaimo, and even on Salt Spring Island.

The C.C.F. have not admitted that they have torn down posters urging electors to vote for Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, the Progressive Conservative candidate. On the other hand Progressive Conservative officials have admitted that they have torn down or over-posted C.C.F. posters, but only after the C.C.F. had begun mutilating the Pearkes posters.

The C.C.F., which admittedly is short of funds, went to considerable expense to have attractive posters printed and posted on telephone and electric power poles in Saanich. They urged the users of the highways to vote for Robert Strachan, the C.C.F. candidate in Nanaimo federal constituency, of which Saanich is a part.

The posters, of a fairly heavy cardboard, were laboriously tacked on telephone and electric power poles along the two highways. No one would question that it was a good job. The printing was in heavy black letters, easily readable by speeding motorists. The posters were numerous.

Now over many of the Strachan posters there has been pasted an attractive Pearkes poster.

The lettering of the C.C.F. poster is almost completely obliterated and instead of urging citizens to vote for Strachan the posters now read: "Work! Vote! Win! with Pearkes. Best for Canada. Best for You."

On a fine-grade paper, with red and black ink and a large picture of Gen. Pearkes, the posters probably did not cost as much to prepare as the original Strachan notice. They are pasted on firmly so there is no removing them.

The Progressive Conservatives admit that they have had complaints from the C.C.F., and report too that they have lodged their complaints with the C.C.F. According to one Progressive Conservative official he has told the C.C.F. that if they want to make anything of the poster war to go ahead. He said the Conservatives are ready to meet the C.C.F. at their own terms, any time.

The poster war, however, is not expected to go much further. With just three days remaining before polling, the skirmish, taking place in the heat of the campaign, will be all forgotten next week.

Suspect Explosive In Bari Plane Crash

LONDON (Reuter) — A London spokesman for Lockheed, makers of Constellation aircraft, said it was suspected some explosive in a passenger's baggage was responsible for the "spontaneous disintegration" of a Royal Dutch Airlines Constellation over Bari Thursday.

"Just before the explosion the pilot made a routine radio call over Bari and reported everything in perfect order," the spokesman said.

"This theory of some explosive in a passenger's baggage is reasonable in view of the fact that the pilot had sufficient altitude (15,000 feet) to have reported any other cause for the disaster."

Vote CAMERON AND DREW for this SOCIAL SECURITY Program

GEORGE DREW

Dynamic leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, who will head a government of action at Ottawa.

GORDON CAMERON

"Canada must have a full social security plan at once, and I intend to work to that end on your behalf in the House of Commons."

THE Progressive Conservative Party plans the following benefits for every Canadian:

1. Retirement pensions at 65 without a means test;
2. Accident, sickness and disability benefits;
3. Health insurance—to include adequate medical and hospital care.
4. Extended unemployment insurance benefits—to include payment for time lost due to sickness or accidents.

Prime Minister St. Laurent said two months ago that the Liberal Government does not plan to establish contributory social security in Canada in the immediate future.

The Progressive Conservative Party says that it can and must be done at once.

Any delay in ensuring a full social security program for all will affect YOUR future.

The time to launch such a program is—NOW.

Elect a man who believes in the need for social security and who supports a party that is prepared to give you social security.

Anti-Submarine Vessels Being Designed In Canada

OTTAWA (BUP)—Canadian Vickers Ltd., Montreal, will begin work immediately on drawings for the first three ships in the navy's anti-submarine shipbuilding program, Defence Minister Brooke Claxton announced Wednesday.

"Every effort will be made to advance the work without delay and it is hoped the first keels will be laid at the end of the year or early in 1950," he said. "As soon as the working drawings are complete, contracts will be awarded to three different Canadian yards, thus maintaining the employment of skilled engineers and workmen in many different industries."

"These will be classed as major war vessels and, as such, are the first to be designed completely in Canada," the minister said. "Although much assistance has been received from the Royal Navy and the United States navy, the ships will, in fact, be entirely of Canadian design throughout and their manufacture will be carried out in Canada with Canadian personnel and resources."

Mr. Claxton noted it would be the first instance in which the Royal Canadian Navy and Canada's shipbuilding industry have worked as a team to produce a "good, practicable" warship design.

GOOD TURN OF SPEED

Specific details of the ships, believed to be capable of almost 30 knots, could not be disclosed for security reasons, Mr. Claxton said. However, they will be designed for the detection and destruction of the fastest modern type sub, he added.

"They will be the first to be built anywhere to meet the new requirements," he said.

The new ships will replace the frigates and corvettes of the last war and, like these, their design will be worked out so they can be produced rapidly and in numbers in an emergency, the minister said.

"In weapons and equipment generally, careful study has been given to both Royal Navy and U.S. navy practice and the best features of both have been selected," he added. "The net result, in the opinion of R.C.N. authorities, will be an anti-submarine vessel second to none."

The longest baseball game played in major leagues was between Brooklyn and Boston of the National League and went 26 innings until darkness stopped play.

$2,000 To Get Each Vote In Labrador

There is no telling how much it will cost to give the people of Hebron, Labrador, their vote.

Hebron is the most northerly polling station in Labrador. Sometime before midnight on the day before next Monday, the ice breaker Saurel is expected to slip into Hebron. It will bear one ballot box, in which not more than 15 or 20 persons will deposit votes.

The government ice breaker is plying through the ice off the Labrador coast. It has some six to nine places to deliver the voting material yet.

If ice should seize the Saurel and keep it from its assignment, the R.C.A.F. will be called in to help. It will drop, by parachute, the voting material—the ballot boxes, the ballots.

It may cost $2,000 for each person to cast their vote at lonely Hebron.

'Pen Pals,' 77, Wed

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Two "pen pals," each 77, were married at a public ceremony here Wednesday night after an 18-month correspondence romance. The bride is the former Linda A. Keppner of nearby Guy's Mills. The groom is J. W. Golden, Harrisburg, Pa., great-grandfather.

No Cure-All For Current Problems; Thought, Experiments Needed

By FORBES RHUDE

Canadian Press Business Editor

One thing noticeable about international or national gatherings today is that no one attempts to give glib answers—no one claims to know it all and no one thinks he has a cure-all for current problems.

More and more as people talk things over there seems to be realization that the world has been torn apart by two wars and the pieces can never be put together again in the same way as they were before.

They have to be put together differently and it is going to be a matter of careful thought and experiment to put them together soundly.

In this as in many other things we are several steps ahead of the thinking that followed the First World War.

Then people tended to think the war had been an interlude, a bad experience, and that when it was over we could get back to living as we did before 1914. It was summed up by President Harding's slogan of "return to normality."

Well, we don't have to go through that particular piece of disillusionment again.

We have had crisis after crisis and we shall continue to have crisis after crisis, but we have developed an ability to meet each crisis as it arises such as the world has not had before. There is a collective thinking which could not have been possible 25 years ago and in the light even of our own times it is amazing the restraint put upon the actions of countries by international opinion.

BEFORE TRIBUNALS

Through various international organizations virtually every action a country may take has to be justified in some way before a world tribunal.

Not only positive actions have to face world opinion, but negative attitude—failure to take action which the rest of the world may feel is due.

But whatever your opinion is, it will be listened to because it may have part of the truth in it for there are, no glib or neat answers.

Speakers of the Canadian Senate and House of Commons each receive salary and allowances of $10,000 per annum.

Monday Becomes Favorite Day For Dominion Elections

With the choice of Monday, June 27, for the Dominion general election, that day now takes its place with Tuesday as the favorite day of the men who call the contest dates.

The current choice makes it six apiece for Monday and Tuesday since 1874—the first year in which elections were held on a single day. Five have been called on Thursdays, and two on Wednesdays.

No government has had the hardhood to call the voters out on Friday. Nor has there ever been a one-day election on Saturday or Sunday.

The Monday trend began to develop strongly in 1930. Of the five elections beginning that year and including the present one, four have been on Mondays. The fifth—in 1940—was on a Tuesday.

ONE-DAY ELECTION

The first one-day election was on Thursday, Jan. 22, 1874. Before that, elections took weeks to complete. The first in 1867 stretched from Aug. 7 to Sept. 7. The 1872 contest, held after British Columbia entered Confederation, lasted three months. It took that long for the chief electoral officer to conduct the balloting from coast to coast.

Far Eastern Commission Has Difficult Task In Japan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ticklish task of deciding how Japan should be run is in the hands of representatives of 11 countries which helped crush Japanese aggression.

Members of the Far Eastern Commission, which sets formal policies to guide Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Supreme Allied Occupation Commander, are Australia, Canada, China, France, India, the Netherlands, New Zealand, the Philippines, Russia, the United Kingdom and the United States.

F. E. C. headquarters is a palatial house on Washington's Massachusetts Avenue — the former Japanese embassy.

The commission can point to a long list of accomplishments since its inception Feb. 26, 1946. But it has had a full share of criticism, much of it from member countries. Typical was a blast last March by Carlos Romulo, Philippine ambassador to the United States and chief Philippine representative on F.E.C.

He said the commissioner's "continued vacillation" was promoting chaos in Asia and declared the United States was largely to blame by "failing to make up its mind." It was time the wartime allies decided "what to do with Japan."

Two months later, China joined with the Philippines in bitter opposition to one of the most decisive "do something" steps taken by the United States in its own conduct of Japanese affairs. That was the American decision to halt delivery of Japanese reparations.

Gen. Frank R. McCoy, United States representative on the F.E.C., made it plain the United States would oppose any proposal to revive reparations payments. Japan would need "all the resources at its disposal" to reduce dependence on United States aid.

Romulo criticized the move as playing into the hands of "wily" Japanese industrialists. Dr. W. K. Lee of China said the decision ignored the future security of the Pacific and would do "gross injustice" to countries ravaged by Japan.

But the United States order stands. McCoy can block action on any proposal to resume payments — with an F.E.C. veto.

F.E.C. has made progress in other fields, however. Its broad objectives, as set forth in the Potsdam declaration, are disarmament, democratization and determination of a self-sustaining economy for Japan. MacArthur's success along these lines is a matter of record.

Canadian ambassador Hume Wrong is the Dominion's chief representative, but his alternate, Ralph E. Collins of Ottawa, a second secretary at the Canadian embassy here, handles much of the Dominion's commission business.

Career Girls Scarce In Dominion Election

Career girls will still be scarce in the next Canadian parliament, despite what all political parties claim about the equality of women.

All parties have finally recognized in their programs the equality of women in political affairs.

In other words, they will let the females play in politics along with the males.

SEVEN C.C.F. WOMEN

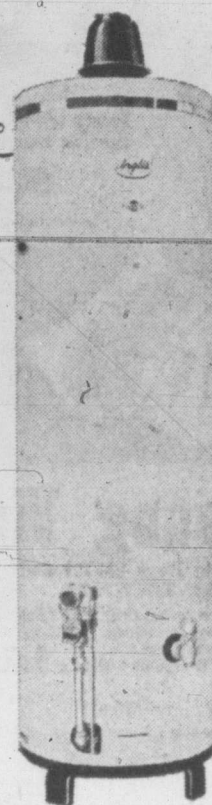

However, to judge by nominations filed across the country, none of the major political parties practise what they preach. Or perhaps having won the principle, the ladies will let the practice go.

The C.C.F.'ers lead with seven women. The P.C.'s with 260 candidates, have nominated four women. The Liberals nominated but one woman standard bearer. The Social Credit Party with a little over 100 candidates have two females.

Alberta, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island will be entirely free of women politicians.

Lipon Ruins Byrne's Second Bid For Fame

Tommy Byrne would like a tip on how to pitch to Johnny Lipon.

Lipon, .250-hitting Detroit shortstop, twice this season has blasted Byrne's hopes of pitching a no-run, no-hit game.

Johnny first played the villain's role May 8.

Byrne had a no-hitter going through six innings, but Lipon greeted the New York Yankee lefthander with a line single to start the seventh. He collected the second of Detroit's three hits in the ninth, as Byrne came through with a 12 to 0 victory.

Lipon was all that stood between Byrne and a no-hitter last night at Yankee Stadium as Tommy hurled another 12 to 0 shutout against the Tigers.

Byrne mowed down the Tigers without a safety for seven innings.

Then came the eighth—and Lipon blasted a pitch toward the left field corner, the ball landing just inside the foul line—fair by a foot. It was the Tigers' only hit of the game. Six other Tigers reached base, all via bases on balls.

HENRICH STARS

Byrne's win was his fifth victory of the year. Tommy Henrich got three of the Yankees' 17 hits, a home run and two singles. He drove in five runs.

Rookie southpaw Maurice McDermott pitched Boston Red Sox to a three-hit, 7 to 0 victory over St. Louis Browns.

Alex Kellner—another rookie southpaw—registered his 10th win, pitching Philadelphia A's to a 12 to 0 victory.

Barrett Hurls Another Victory For San Diego

Kewpie Dick Barrett is still a pitcher to be reckoned with on the Pacific slope.

The fast and fiery pitcher released recently by Seattle, racked up another win for his new mates, the San Diego Padres, with a stylish six-hit, 5 to 2 verdict over the league-leading Hollywood Stars.

Possessor of 213 Coast League victories starting this season, Barrett posted his fourth win against three defeats for 1949 and appeared as crafty as ever. He fanned five with his wide variety of curves.

Hollywood, however, lost no ground. Second-place Seattle was shut out with three hits by Los Angeles' new right-hander, Bryan Stephens, and lost 3 to 0.

Oakland and San Diego moved up into a third-place tie as the Oaks dumped Sacramento, 9 to 8. San Francisco gained in its battle to take over sixth place from Portland with a 4 to 3 decision.

Williams Claims Breaks Important To .400 Hitters

BOSTON (AP)—When Hughie (438) Duffy is not within hearing distance, slugger Ted Williams declares that .400-hitters are not born but made by the breaks.

"Only the breaks put you up there," Ted says, "and that is with all due respects to Jesse Burkett, Ty Cobb and Rogers Hornsby who did it three times."

"I'm convinced that you can hit .344 one year and .406 the next, as I did in 1940-41, and yet not be any better the second year than you were the first."

"You're just luckier. I know I was no better in 1941 than I was the year before, but I got a lot more breaks. Everything seemed to go just right and almost every ball went where I wanted it to go."

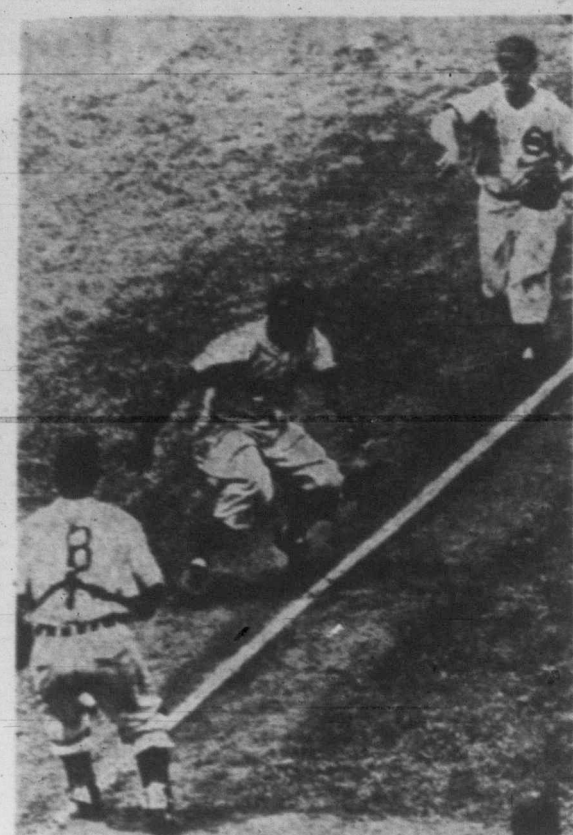

During the last three seasons, Williams has managed to come up with lousy .342, .343 and .369 averages. Today he is batting .320 in 61 games with 72 hits, 70 runs batted in and 17 homers.

Eight years ago, Williams was in the ultra-select .400 class July 25 and remained there until the day before the season ended. Going into the 1941 finale Sept. 28 he stood .399. Then he came through a doubleheader with six hits in eight trips. That put his .406-mark in the record books.

BEAVERS AT NANAIMO

Hudson's Bay Beavers, recently returned from an exhibition tour of the western part of United States, will play Harrier Queens, touring U.S. women's softball team, in an exhibition game at Nanaimo tonight and tomorrow night at 8.

A device developed in Australia automatically makes a scale map of terrain over which it is rolled.

Jackie Robinson Trapped

Brooklyn Dodgers' batting ace doesn't know which way to turn as Chicago Cubs' catcher, Rube Walker, left, and third baseman Andy Pafko cut him off between third base and home in fourth inning of game at Chicago. Walker put the ball on Robinson, but the Dodgers went on to win 2 to 1.

Would Pay $2,000,000 For Cleveland Indians

CLEVELAND (AP)—Brewer George Creadon and a group of businessmen want to buy the world champion Cleveland Indians for $2,000,000, the Plain Dealer reports today.

Creadon is president of the Standard Brewing Company here. Sports editor Gordon Cobbledick writes that Creadon is forming a syndicate that will make the offer "in the near future."

Tribe president Bill Veeck, the man who brought his flamboyant tactics to Cleveland three years ago, said: "I'm not selling the Indians. These people are buying them. By that I mean I am making no active effort to sell. But I will listen to any reasonable offer."

"I have had two or three in the past, but I rejected them because I didn't feel the offers were good enough."

Veeck owns slightly more than 30 per cent of the club stock. Veeck said he has fixed no price on the club—the syndicate he headed is reported to have bought the club for $1,500,000—but the Plain Dealer says it was learned he wants $2,500,000.

The prospective buyers, however, are not prepared to go that high, the paper added.

Henri Rochon Has Little Trouble In Ontario Tennis Win

TORONTO (CP)—Top-seeded Henri Rochon of Montreal swept convincingly into the semifinals of the Ontario men's singles championships, Thursday with a straight-set victory over young Jim McGregor of Toronto. The Montreal ace drubbed McGregor 6-0, 6-4, 6-4.

Three other Montrealers completed the semifinal pairings with wins. Fifth-seeded Jim Duffy veteran J. J. Desjardins, and young Jack Spencer all advanced, but Duffy had a tough time of it. He nosed out fellow-Montrealer George Robinson, 4-6, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5, in the day's closest match.

Women's singles also advanced to the semifinals as the four top-seeded players won. First-seeded Pat Macken of Montreal defeated Mrs. Pauline Robinson of Montreal 6-2, 6-4. She will meet Toronto's Joan Burritt. In the other semifinal Elaine Fildes of Montreal meets Mrs. Louise Brown of Toronto.

Oak Bay Cricket Club line-up for match with Five C's at Windsor Park tomorrow at 2:30 follows: J. A. Hobday, J. Sparks, J. Vyvyan, H. G. Green, R. F. Scott, J. Deane, B. Bauverau, P. Pottell, G. C. Roberts, A. Higgs and G. C. Grant.

Sports Round-Up

By Hugh Fullerton Jr.

NEW YORK (AP)—The national professional tennis championships in the big Forest Hills stadium had the peaceful atmosphere of an ordinary club tournament on a hot afternoon—and just about as big attendance.

... So it wasn't surprising to hear Jimmy Evert refer to it as "a nice vacation for the pros."

A year ago Jimmy was playing for Notre Dame in the national collegiate tournament (he was eliminated in the quarter-finals). He had just finished eliminating Wayne Sabin, a tested pro, which gave him the doubtful privilege of meeting Bobby Riggs. So you wondered what impelled a 25-year-old college graduate to take up this business in which a few stars collect all the headlines and the big money.

ITS OWN REWARD

"There's no money in tournament tennis," Evert admitted wryly. "As a matter of fact, if I had stayed in Chicago I probably would have remained an amateur. I was on the junior Davis Cup squad there and made the eastern tournament circuit a couple of times before the war. But the Chicago District Association didn't contribute much for expenses and it cost at least $200 to make the eastern circuit. So I gave that up. Then my family moved to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and there wasn't much chance there to get work that would let me play tournament tennis, so I turned pro last September."

"It isn't bad giving lessons at $10 an hour, but it isn't an easy life if you're out there under a hot sun teaching seven or eight hours a day. Of course, I don't get that many hours yet."

"I like teaching the kids and I guess I just love the game. I know that's why the California boys, for instance Jack Cushingham turned pro. They like tennis more than anything else."

Sidney In Sixth Win; Seattle Here Saturday

Sidney made it six in a row last night in the Women's Senior B Softball League by topping Toppers, 8 to 2, while Adverts hurdled Red's Service to go into second place, a game and a half behind the leaders with an extra inning 8 to 7 triumph over Red's.

Sidney had little trouble with fourth-place Toppers. The suburban nine took a one-run lead in the first inning, punched across a brace in the third and clinched things in the fifth with a four-run outburst.

RALLY TWICE

Red's twice came from behind to tie Adverts but lost out in the eighth stanza when Connie Taylor singled home the tie-breaking run.

Trailing 5 to 2 at the end of the second inning when Adverts knocked starter Marion McCullough from the hill, Red's bounced back to knot the count when Evelyn Salter smashed out a three-run homer in the third.

Adverts again went ahead in the fourth on a two-run four-bagger by Ruby Ross but Red's forced the game past the regulation seven innings with two tallies in the top of the seventh.

PROTESTED VICTORY

In Men's Senior B League

action, West Heat Oil Burners edged Sidney Roofing, 6 to 5. However, the game has been protested by the losers and the official result will not be known until the game has been replayed on the committee-room floor.

Canadian-Scottish whiplashed Navy, 14 to 5, in a Men's Senior C tilt while Garrison's senior B squad edged Douglas Tire, leaders of the Senior A Men's League, 6 to 5, in an exhibition game.

SEATTLE HERE

Tonight's scheduled game between Brentwood Aces and Bluebird Cubs has been postponed and will take place at upper Central Stadium at 4.

An exhibition game will be held at the Central Park grounds tomorrow with Seattle University meeting Timber Service at 7. Ken Gunter of Douglas Tire has been loaned to the Timber service team for the game.

On Sunday at 2, the Seattle school will meet Brentwood Aces. At present Seattle University is leading the Seattle City Senior A League.

B.C. Does Not Ask Consideration On Geographic Position

C. W. Brazier of Vancouver, British Columbia government counsel, told the Royal Commission on Transportation, which concluded at the Court House, Thursday afternoon, that B.C. does not seek special consideration in transportation because of its geographical position.

"We are taking the position in British Columbia that we must accept our geographic position as it is, with whatever handicaps or advantages go with it," Mr. Brazier said.

He added, however, that if the commission were to recommend particular consideration for any province by way of compensation for geographic conditions, then British Columbia wanted to be considered for it.

"What consideration would you want?" queried Hon. W. F. A. Turgeon, commission chairman.

"Just the same as the others," replied Mr. Brazier.

The three prairie provinces have laid stress on their geographic disabilities and have called for special treatment to help them reach distant markets and supply sources.

The commission Thursday heard largely of British Columbia's trucking industry.

Govt. Says Island May Be Good Bed For Uranium Prospecting

The provincial mines department, telling B.C. prospectors how to go about finding uranium, said today that Vancouver Island might be a good bet.

The advice was given in a treatise entitled "Prospecting for Uranium," by John S. Stevenson, which the department is issuing.

Noting that uranium had been discovered at two places along the eastern side of the Coast Range batholith-belt, Dr. Stevenson said:

"One could hope to find other occurrences of uranium minerals not only within or close to the Coast Range belt of batholiths but also in or near other areas of batholithic rocks elsewhere in the province. These would include the batholiths on Vancouver Island, the batholiths in the north-central part of the province such as the large northwesterly trending Cassiar-Omineca belt of batholiths, and the batholiths in the south-central and south-eastern part of the province such as those belonging to the Okanagan and Nelson intrusions."

The two uranium discoveries of the province to date were made near Hazelton and in the Bridge River area.

"The most definite advice that can be given is where not to seek uranium ore," said Dr. Stevenson. "Uranium would not be found in the fields of the interior and it is not likely that mineable deposits of pitchblende or uraninite would be found in sedimentary rocks of the Rocky Mountains."

Prospectors should also be on the lookout for weathered surfaces showing the characteristic pink coating of cobalt minerals and the green coating of nickel minerals, Dr. Stevenson said.

"All outcrops showing any sign whatsoever of yellow, pink or greenish mineralization as crusts or films on the surface or in cracks, should certainly be tested further for uranium," he said.

He warned, however, that not all yellow powders or films were derived from uranium minerals. A yellow coating characteristically forms on the weathered surface of molybdenite and stibnite.

Liberals Fulfilling Promises, Meeting Told At Cobble Hill

COBBLE HILL—The Liberal government had fulfilled or was yet fulfilling every promise it made in 1945 and challenged anybody to question him on that subject, William E. Poupore, Liberal candidate for the Nanaimo federal riding told a meeting here Thursday night prior to a scheduled campaign address to the people of Saanich.

He also stated that any of the Progressive Conservative Party should remember it was the Conservatives who threw out the Pensions Bill in 1926, thereby forcing the liberals to go out in the following election and attain more members to get the bill passed.

"As conditions in Canada improved, so did the pension plan for senior citizens," he said.

Supporting Mr. Poupore was J. Ronald Grant, member of the Victoria Young Liberal Association, who explained the government's platform and its accomplishments.

He said nowhere in the world was there a nation that had made as much progress as Canada in recent years.

D. J. Proudfoot, successful Coalition candidate in the recent provincial election, also addressed the meeting. He spoke of the hospital benefits received from the federal government.

Dealing with socialization, Mr. Proudfoot said a complete system of socialization would be harmful to the citizens of Canada and that they would lose all present initiative.

Cmdr. Charles T. Beard, Coalition member for Esquimalt in the provincial legislature, was chairman of the meeting.

A plea of not guilty to a charge of careless driving on Yates Street Thursday night, was entered today in city police court by Percy M. Brown, 706 Blanshard Street. He was remanded to next Tuesday for trial.

On Tuesday Magistrate H. C. Hall gave the Indian girl a break. When she said she wished to get over to Port Angeles to join her parents and stay there the magistrate let her go instead of imposing the heavier-than-usual penalty he had promised for too frequent appearances in court for drunkenness.

Early this morning she was picked up by police in an intoxicated state on Flisgard Street. She pleaded guilty.

"This is the sixth time this month," said Magistrate Hall and imposed the month's term in jail.

Hospital Reports Degree Of Success In Cancer Treatment

Doctors at St. Joseph's Hospital have met with a degree of success in trying out a cancer treatment developed by hospital researchers.

In announcing recent progress made with the treatment, which involves the use of para-amino benzoic acid and X-rays, hospital officials were careful to point out that the treatment is not supposed to be a cure.

Further time and tests will be required before any reliable statement on success can be made, they said.

Nearly 200 persons have been treated with the new discovery but it is still too early to say how effective the treatment will be.

At a meeting Thursday of the St. Joseph's Hospital Cancer Fund, it was reported the same treatment was being used for certain types of blood cancer in Britain.

"We can claim priority in this," the meeting was informed, "as our work goes back to 1946, although we have not felt justified in publishing our results until more is known of the biochemical effects of para-amino benzoic acid on the blood."

Found Guilty On Knifing Charge At Drinking Party

Frank Forde, 50 Government Street, was found guilty in city police court today by Magistrate H. C. Hall on a charge of unlawfully assaulting John White, Ss. Princess Patricia, and occasioning him grievous bodily harm.

He was remanded to tomorrow for sentence.

Evidence of Crown witnesses and accused was that White suffered a four-inch arm wound with an eight-inch bread knife during a drinking party involving seven or eight persons in Suite 4 at the Government Street address. This took place on the night of June 5.

Testimony of Crown witnesses was that White was endeavoring to stop a quarrel between Forde and Andrew C. Thomas, 832 Dunsmuir Road, and in doing so "was accidentally stabbed" by the knife in accused's hand.

Witnesses said there was no intent on Forde's part to wound White. They said that he was preparing to make sandwiches and had the knife in his hand when Thomas started to argue with him for the third or fourth time during the evening.

Forde said he was pointing the knife in his hand at Thomas and telling him to keep quiet and sit down. It was while this was going on that White stepped in and tried to separate them and got the knife wound.

Forde said he had no intention to use the knife on any one. In the witness stand, White, his right arm still in a cast, said: "I was a pacifier. I was not deliberately stabbed. It was an accident."

Thomas said he got argumentative with the drink. "I get argumentative when I get liquor in me," he said. The knifing was purely an accident, he said.

Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, labeled evidence that White had run into the knife "as perfect nonsense," pointing out that the knife had gone completely through the arm.

W. A. Brethour, defence counsel, pointed out this was a drunken party and that evidence showed there was no intent on the part of Forde to use the knife in a violent manner.

White, he said sustained the wound, when he put his arms up to push Forde and Thomas apart.

Magistrate Hall noted Constable Deans Blackstock's opinion that such a complete through-the-arm wound would have taken considerable force.

"I don't think the knife could have been driven through the arm without a deliberate blow in the heat of the argument," the magistrate said.

Students will be permitted to earn $500 each year without their father losing them as dependents for income tax purposes; it was announced from Ottawa today. A budget proposal has increased the amount from $400.

Many students, particularly those attending university, have complained that they exceed the $400 allowance if they work most of their five-month holiday period as a result of higher wages and cost of living bonus. Offsetting this they stated their fees have advanced considerably, their books cost more and board and room for out-of-town students is higher.

In the past students who earned more than $400 a year had to make a refund of the excess amount to the Dominion Income Tax Department or their fathers could not claim exemption for them.

Patrick D. Steele, 827 Pandora Avenue, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving a car while his driver's license was under suspension, and was fined $50 by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today. The young motorist was stopped on Pandora Avenue by a constable on the morning of June 18.

"Do I understand that because I cannot pay my rent in full, I must be pushed out into the streets?" a tenant asked Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court today.

The tenant, a soft-spoken woman and defendant in a Landlord and Tenant Act case, explained that her husband was not earning a living wage and she had been obliged to pay her rent in small installments.

The judge said he was afraid he could not do anything for her. "I have to administer the law," he said, "and if you don't comply with W.T.P.B. regulations you lose the benefits under the act."

Joseph McKenna, counsel representing the landlord, suggested that the woman apply to the welfare bureau for accommodations.

Missed The Boat So Goes To Jail
Lila did not catch the Port Angeles boat after all and so will be spending the next 30 days behind bars.

On Tuesday Magistrate H. C. Hall gave the Indian girl a break. When she said she wished to get over to Port Angeles to join her parents and stay there the magistrate let her go instead of imposing the heavier-than-usual penalty he had promised for too frequent appearances in court for drunkenness.

Early this morning she was picked up by police in an intoxicated state on Flisgard Street. She pleaded guilty.

"This is the sixth time this month," said Magistrate Hall and imposed the month's term in jail.

Children Like St. Laurent, Send Him Many Postcards

By ROBERT W. REFORM
HAMILTON, Ont. (BUP) — Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent made his appeal to the children when he carried his election campaign through eight counties of western Ontario, as he did in his home province of Quebec.

On his tour of the little towns and villages he was met everywhere by enthusiastic crowds. He would make unscheduled stops where the people had gathered to see him. And always he made a point of talking to the children and of shaking hands with as many people as he could.

HALF HOLIDAY

Practically everywhere he went he gave the children a half holiday from school, and the way he gave it appealed both to the children themselves and to their parents.

It was an unusual event, he would say, for a Prime Minister of Canada to visit this town—and indeed, it was often the first time any Prime Minister had been there. Therefore it was a special occasion and should be treated as such.

Perhaps, he would go on, the children would like a holiday from school, though many obviously wanted to go on working for their exams. Now what did they think of such an idea?

The suggestion was always treated with cheers, and Mr. St. Laurent would then say that since this was a democratic country where the majority ruled, perhaps the school trustees would agree to accept the decision of the majority in this case and give the boys and girls a holiday.

SEND A POSTCARD

The youngsters always crowded round him, taking photographs and shaking him by the hand. The one thing the Prime Minister did not do was give them his autograph. Instead, he asked them to send him a postcard to Ottawa, which he promised to sign and return. In his addresses at the little towns, Mr. St. Laurent would also talk of the young generation, of their future and of their responsibility to Canada.

Battle For World's Labor Unions Set To Start Shortly

GENEVA (AP)—A battle for the allegiance of union men all over the world will be joined here this week-end.

Leaders or representatives of non-Communist unions are gathering to lay the groundwork for a world group in opposition to the Communist-ruled World Federation of Trade Unions.

Organizers of the two-day conference say it will decide who will sponsor the first world convention of the new organization and where and when it will be held. James B. Carey, treasurer of the Congress of Industrial Organizations and a delegate to this session, said the new group will be functioning before 1950.

That a new world organization would be started became obvious last January, when the British Trades Union Congress, the American C.I.O. and the Netherlands trade union organization left the W.F.T.U., charging it was dominated by the Reds.

Since then, most of the major national union organizations in western Europe and Scandinavia have quit the W.F.T.U. The French General Confederation of Labor has remained in, however. The American Federation of Labor never belonged to the group. It will be represented, however, at the Geneva meeting.

$92,000 Deposits Lost In 1945 Election

The federal government will get back some of its heavy outlay on the June 27 general election. Forfeited deposits of candidates will yield many thousands of dollars.

Each candidate must post a $200 deposit, which is forfeited if he fails to poll more than half the votes of the winning candidate in his riding.

High point in government revenue from this source was in 1945, when $92,400 was turned in by 462 candidates losing deposits. They were almost half of the total of 952 candidates in the running.

'Great White Way' Asked For London

LONDON (UP)—The British government was asked Wednesday to brighten London's Piccadilly theatre district along the lines of New York's Broadway.

Laborite M.P. John D. Mack suggested in Parliament that Piccadilly acquire more lights, open-air cafes and "a jolly good Folies Bergere show" with "certain modifications."

"We don't expect to make a Broadway out of Piccadilly," Mack said, "but we do expect a few bright lights so people can walk about with their souls infused with enthusiasm."

"Let the people go gay," the M.P. said.

He also suggested the lighting in other parts of Britain be overhauled.

LONDON (UP)—Six Soviet parachutists have set a new Soviet Union night jumping record of 10,200 metres (about 33,464 feet), the Tass news agency reported from Moscow today.

Princess Margaret May Visit Canada, Then See Part Of U.S.

LONDON (UP)—Protocol and tradition may delay Princess Margaret's proposed visit to the United States, her friends said today.

Margaret, fresh from a tour of Italy, wants to go the republic within the next year. She has made that plain to family and friends.

But a young princess can't just pack up and take off.

Her friends believe that if Margaret does visit the United States to see the sights, the journey will be tempered with "business of state."

It would not do, they said, for her to cross the Atlantic only to visit the United States.

"Probably she will go to Canada first and then travel down to the U.S. on a final swing of a state journey before returning to Britain," one of her friends said.

"Remember, her mother and father did the same thing just before the war," the friend added.

King George and Queen Elizabeth toured Canada and then visited New York, Washington and President Roosevelt's home at Hyde Park.

In February, 1931, the government of Norway formally recognized the Canadian title to the Sverdrup group of Arctic islands.

Leave Pistol, Sword At Home On Election Day

You'd better leave your sword at home when you go to vote on election day.

Somebody might not understand. And you might spend two years in penitentiary or be fined $200—or both.

As far as that goes, you'd better not have any firearm, sword, staff, bludgeon or other offensive weapon in the hands or personal possession on election day.

MUST SURRENDER THEM

The Dominion Elections Act—which regulates the conduct of all federal elections says you can't. It provides those penalties for anyone who doesn't surrender any weapons on election day if he has them within a half mile of a polling booth. If you're a stranger and armed, you have to stay a mile away.

It's all part of the elaborate precautions taken in the elections act to guarantee that elections are orderly, fair and secret and that no voter is coerced or intimidated.

Among the other things you can't do:

1. Wear a campaign button or any other party emblem within eight days of the election.
2. Sell beer or liquor on election day if you own a bar or tavern.
3. Give anybody, or use yourself, "any loudspeaker, bunting, ensign, banner, standard or any set of colors, or any other flag... with intent that it shall be carried, worn or used on automobiles, trucks or other vehicles, as political propaganda" on election day or the day before an election.
4. Bribe or threaten a voter.
5. Try to get a ballot by false pretenses or try to vote if you are disqualified.
6. Heckle at a political meeting with "intent to prevent the transaction of business."

EXPENSE ACCOUNTS

A candidate has an even tougher time. If he's elected, he must turn in an expense statement, listing the source of his campaign funds and how they were spent. He can make all the verbal promises he likes—providing they aren't bribes—but he can't sign an election promise.

Most of these are indictable offenses. That means you get a jury trial if charged—and possibly a penitentiary sentence if convicted.

Prosecutions under these sections of The Elections Act are few and far between. But the act doesn't take any chances. It lists every conceivable thing that could interfere with an election and makes them all offenses.

As a result, there are a lot of "can't's." There's also one big "can."

You can vote.

By careful administration the Liberal government has established this record and been able at the same time to cut the national debt by 1,625 million dollars... which has meant a saving of $224 for every man, woman and child in Canada.

And every budget since 1945 has announced lowered rates of taxation. This has resulted in a 32% reduction in personal income tax and means that 750,000 people who formerly paid income tax do not now pay any income tax at all.

The total tax reductions in dollars and cents amounts to $1,292,000,000 since 1945.

$35,000 Damages Against B.C.E.R.

VANCOUVER (CP)—A B.C. Supreme Court jury Thursday awarded Mrs. Ena Pearl Nance of Irricana, Alberta, $35,000 damages against the B.C. Electric Company for the death of her husband Jan. 18.

Samuel Joseph Nance, 54-year-old implement dealer, was struck by a one-man streetcar. He died in a hospital shortly after. His wife suffered minor injuries.

The jury ruled that the negligence of the driver—Joseph Stevens—was the sole cause of the injuries which resulted in Nance's death.

Mrs. Nance sued for compensation for herself and four children.

Courtenay Freak From South America

COURTENAY (BUP)—A freak animal which stumped Courtenay game experts was identified Thursday as a nutria, a South American rodent imported into Canada a few years ago as a fur-bearing animal.

The strange creature was killed by Trapper J. A. Day at Comox. It was first believed to be a cross between a beaver and a muskrat.

The nutria was described as having the head, long teeth and coarse fur of a beaver. The tail, however, resembles that of a huge rat, and is two inches thick at the base and 14 inches in length.

Former Victorian Dies In Duncan

DUNCAN — John Collier-Wright of Shawnigan Lake, formerly of Victoria, who was one of the early settlers at French Creek, died suddenly Wednesday at Duncan, after a brief illness.

A resident of B.C. for 41 years, Mr. Collier-Wright was a veteran of the First World War, having served in France with the 102nd Battalion.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2, from St. John's Church, Cobble Hill.

View Royal Elects New Fire Trustee

VIEW ROYAL — A special meeting of ratepayers in View Royal Community Hall elected James C. Cleland, a View Royal fire trustee, for a two-year term.

Greater Victoria Water Board has issued instructions that the first fire hydrant for View Royal be installed this week, to be followed by an additional one each week until eight had been connected, W. B. Cole, chairman, told the meeting.

The fire crew, under Fire Chief A. E. Beasley, agreed to maintain the fire truck in perfect condition, free of cost to the ratepayers, Mr. Cole said.

Owners of several large lily pools in private gardens at View Royal have assured the brigade of water service in an emergency up to 600 gallons until the hydrants are in operation.

Locations of hydrants are: View Royal Avenue and Island Highway, Helmcken Avenue and the highway, Heddle Avenue at Toby Crescent, Stewart and View Royal Avenue, the highway at Morrow's Auto Court, Helmcken Avenue at Midwood Road, Howland Avenue at Burnside Road, and Helmcken Avenue at Chancellor Road.

To Close Oldest School In West

A "closed" sign will be tacked above the door of the oldest school still in Western Canada next Wednesday, when Metchoshin Public School, erected in 1872 at the intersection of Happy Valley and Metchoshin Roads, is retired from active duty.

Decision to close the pioneer building followed addition of another room to the second school. Trustees, however, hope to preserve the school as a link with pioneer days.

Trustees of Sooke School District No. 62 will be on hand at 10 Wednesday morning when Robert Witty and Thomas Heigsen, two of the original pupils, will place the "closed" sign on the door. The Metchoshin P.T.A. and school board have invited all the district old-timers to attend the ceremony.

Serving the building first as a church, the school later was used as a teachers' residence, when another school had been erected on the property in 1914.

Submarine Cables To Power Island

VANCOUVER (BUP). — The British Columbia Electric revealed plans Thursday for two under-water cables to supply power to Bowen Island, west of Vancouver.

The 12,000-volt twin cables, the longest in western Canada, will stretch nearly 17,000 feet from the B.C. mainland under Howe Sound. Energy will be supplied from a substation at Eagle Harbor.

Cost of the project will be $75,000. At the Bowen Island terminus, the cables will be linked to the existing Union Estates distribution facilities, which now furnish diesel-generated electricity on the island.

Eagles Open Drive To Aid War Orphans

With the purpose of giving physical, medical, surgical, dental, optical and educational aid to children of servicemen who died during the recent World War, the Fraternal Order of Eagles has opened a special public appeal in order to augment its Memorial Foundation drive.

Campaign is being launched throughout the North American continent. In Canada, a "Mission of the Heart" seal campaign is being employed. The slogan is: "He who builds well in the life of children builds a monument to the sky."

George Goodenough, secretary of the local organization is directing the Victoria campaign.

Fines imposed in Saanich police court Thursday afternoon for traffic offences, amounted to $100. These were for exceeding the general and school zone speed limits and for not having a driver's license. The $505 collected the week before was a record for a day's court session.

Island Leads Canada In V.L.A. Holdings

Vancouver Island leads all Canada in the percentage increase of small holdings and farms under the Veterans' Land Act, G. L. Chatterton, regional supervisor for V.L.A., has reported.

A 38 per cent increase in the number of new loans on Vancouver Island was noted for the 11 months ending April 30, while the B.C. average was 22 per cent and the Dominion average, 16 per cent.

The V.L.A. investment for Vancouver Island now is $4,000,000. Number of holdings in the Victoria region, which includes all Vancouver Island, rose from 614 on June 1, 1948, to 766 on April 30, 1949. The first holding was taken out in 1945.

Harrison Still Shooting Par To Lead Open Golf

ST. GEORGE'S GOLF CLUB, Toronto (CP)—Dutch Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., shot a par 35 on the first nine holes today, making a strong bid to hold on to his lead in the Canadian Open Golf championship.

He started today's third round with 133 for the earlier rounds and a four-stroke lead over the field.

His nearest rival appeared to be Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va., who fired his third successive 69 in the tournament for a 54-hole total of 207.

Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N.J., starting five strokes behind Harrison, took a four-over-par on his first nine and finished the round with 75, four over, for a 54-hole total of 215.

Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, Calif., racked up two brilliant 34's for a four-under 68 and a total of 208.

Bill Kelly of Montreal Beaconsfield, low Canadian at the halfway mark with 139, was out in Par 35. With Kerr and Harrison was Chuck Congdon of Tacoma, Wash., defending champion who won last year at Vancouver's Shaughnessy Heights course.

Congdon, starting with 140, today was out in two-under-par 33, scoring an eagle at the 515-yard ninth. His second shot landed five feet from the pin and he ran down the putt.

Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N.C., and Jim Ferrier of Chicago, bracketed at 137 for 36 holes, appeared to be losing ground to Harrison.

Ferrier went the distance today in 73, one over par, and Heafner, a late starter, had 36 on his first nine.

Unknown Chinese Miss Ousts Glamorous Gussie

LONDON (CP)—Gen Hoang, tiny Chinese-born British tennis player, today upset the seeding apple-cart when she ousted Gertrude (Glamorous Gussie) Moran 6-2, 5-7, 6-3, in the third round of the Wimbledon tennis championships.

Miss Hoang, born in Hong Kong, is the British indoor champion. A crowd of 14,000 cheered her victory.

Another seeded woman, French champion Nelly Landry, Adamson, also met defeat in the third round, going down to Britain's Wightman star Mrs. Molly Blair 2-6, 5-7.

Mrs. Sheila Summers, who today upset the seeded Joan Curry of Britain, today bowed to Mrs. J. Walker Smith of Britain 2-6, 2-6.

California's Budge Patty and South Africa's No. 1 Eric Stru-gess advanced to the round of the last 16 in the men's doubles with a 6-1, 6-2, 6-2 win over two young Britons, Leslie Cater and F. Wallis.

Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, defending champion in the women's singles, advanced through the third round with a routine 6-1, 6-0 win over Mrs. Mary Harford of Britain.

Defending doubles champions John Bromwich and Frank Sedgman of Australia trounced the British pair, J. R. Mansell and G. R. Tucker 6-2, 6-2, 6-0.

The U.S. women's champion, Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont of Bellevue, Del., was not extended in ousting Mrs. R. E. Chandler of Britain 6-1, 6-1.

Pancho Gonzales and Frankie Parker of Los Angeles reached the third round of the men's doubles with an 8-6, 6-2, 6-3 victory over the Yugoslav Davis Cuppers, Drago Mitic and Josip Palada.

Bob Falkenberg of Beverly Hills and Jaroslav Drobny of Czechoslovakia employed their great services to eliminate Pierre Geolhand and Jacques Peten of Belgium 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., and Gardnar Mulloy of Miami overwhelmed two British hopefuls, A. L. Della Porta and H. Watkins, 6-1, 6-0, 6-4.

One Engine Gone; Plane Travels 980 Miles

SEATTLE (AP)—A four-motored U.S. navy transport plane which traveled the last 980 miles of its Kodiak-to-Seattle flight on three engines, landed here safely Thursday night.

Lieut. C. C. Windsor, the pilot, said neither the crew nor any of the 21 passengers were alarmed greatly. The engine blew an oil plug over the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Czechs War On Church

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP)—The government announced today that strong new police action is being taken against Roman Catholic priests and bishops in Slovakia, the strongest centre of Roman Catholicism in this country.

This announcement by the Communist government followed hard upon reports from churchmen and diplomatic sources here that authorities for weeks have been closing down monasteries and arresting priests in that southern province.

These steps are part of the intensifying church-state war in which the Communists are trying to gain control of the church and break the influence of the Vatican in Czechoslovakia. The Protestant minority in Czechoslovakia was reported preparing to back the Roman Catholic Church, its traditional foe, in the fight for survival.

The exact nature of the measures has not been disclosed, but on Tuesday Premier Zdenek Fieringer told the country by radio that "the law will take its course against saboteurs and provocateurs and all those fomenting disunity and unrest."

He made the threat after accusing Czechoslovakia's Roman Catholic Primate, Archbishop Joseph Beran, of leading the "reactionary" church forces which are "trying to incite unrest" and wreck the country's economic plans.

Almost 400 horses are ready to go at the Renton Oval, which a few weeks ago faced a season's closure because of a dispute over officials.

The opening program will feature the six-furlong Renton Handicap. The Tacoma Handicap will be the Sunday racing program feature.

Homes Guarded As Fear Stalks Area; Close School Down

By GEORGE BRIMMELL, Canadian Press Staff Writer. MISSION, B.C.—A twin-charge of murder was laid by police today against 70-year-old Ivar Johnson, crazed farmer sought in the slaying of two women.

He was charged with the deaths of Mrs. Marie Lindberg and Mrs. George A. Barrett, farm wives killed during a reign of terror Thursday in the Silver Hill community.

A 24-hour search for the slayer, who fled to the woods, has failed to reveal a trace of the wanted man.

In the fear-ridden Silver Hill district five miles from Mission, homes were under guard today, some women and children had been evacuated to Mission City, and the school was closed.

Miles of bushlands have been combed by police, reserve army men and citizens from Mission City, Silver Hill and the surrounding district.

Before noon, heavy rain pelted the district as posse members patrolled highways in cars while others beat through the bush.

Head-high ferns, rooted stumps and trees and the debris of an untouched forest hid all but the closest men from sight.

The 70-year-old farmer, said to have been holding a grudge against neighbors planning a road close to his farm, opened the reign of terror at 11 a.m. Thursday.

Within two hours Mrs. George Barrett, 66-year-old farm wife, and a neighbor, Mrs. Marie Lindberg, 68-year-old widow, were dead. A police constable, Peter Bergen, had escaped death by inches.

Putting the torch to his farm buildings, Johnson fled, seeking refuge in the dense forest.

Fear spread through the area. The school was closed; the pupils taken home in a bus, driven by an armed driver with a rifle-carrying guard. Women stayed behind barred doors, while husbands, armed with rifles and shotguns, joined the posse.

Johnson, believing the new roadway was too close to his property, had warned: "I'll shoot if one stone falls on my property."

Johnson was armed with a 30-30 rifle and is reported to have carried 100 rounds of ammunition.

The search today was concentrated in a five-square mile area in the foothills of the Stave Mountain region, 45 miles east of Vancouver on the bank of the Fraser River.

It is a Swedish-populated district, where Johnson was known as a "quiet but moody man." Some neighbors said he had a "persecution complex."

The search today was concentrated in a five-square mile area in the foothills of the Stave Mountain region, 45 miles east of Vancouver on the bank of the Fraser River.

It is a Swedish-populated district, where Johnson was known as a "quiet but moody man." Some neighbors said he had a "persecution complex."

Johnson, believing the new roadway was too close to his property, had warned: "I'll shoot if one stone falls on my property."

Johnson was armed with a 30-30 rifle and is reported to have carried 100 rounds of ammunition.

Homes Guarded As Fear Stalks Area; Close School Down

By GEORGE BRIMMELL, Canadian Press Staff Writer. MISSION, B.C.—A twin-charge of murder was laid by police today against 70-year-old Ivar Johnson, crazed farmer sought in the slaying of two women.

He was charged with the deaths of Mrs. Marie Lindberg and Mrs. George A. Barrett, farm wives killed during a reign of terror Thursday in the Silver Hill community.

A 24-hour search for the slayer, who fled to the woods, has failed to reveal a trace of the wanted man.

In the fear-ridden Silver Hill district five miles from Mission, homes were under guard today, some women and children had been evacuated to Mission City, and the school was closed.

Miles of bushlands have been combed by police, reserve army men and citizens from Mission City, Silver Hill and the surrounding district.

Before noon, heavy rain pelted the district as posse members patrolled highways in cars while others beat through the bush.

Head-high ferns, rooted stumps and trees and the debris of an untouched forest hid all but the closest men from sight.

The 70-year-old farmer, said to have been holding a grudge against neighbors planning a road close to his farm, opened the reign of terror at 11 a.m. Thursday.

Within two hours Mrs. George Barrett, 66-year-old farm wife, and a neighbor, Mrs. Marie Lindberg, 68-year-old widow, were dead. A police constable, Peter Bergen, had escaped death by inches.

Putting the torch to his farm buildings, Johnson fled, seeking refuge in the dense forest.

Fear spread through the area. The school was closed; the pupils taken home in a bus, driven by an armed driver with a rifle-carrying guard. Women stayed behind barred doors, while husbands, armed with rifles and shotguns, joined the posse.
